No decisive actions are expected at the initial two-day conference, which plans only to set up organization and procedures for continuing negotiations.

The opening get-together appeared likely to provide some clues as to just how much steam there is behind the historic proposal.

Other denominations may be invited to join in future negotiating sessions.

The goal, if agreements can be reached, is establishment of a united church "truly catholic, truly reformed, and truly evangelical."

More Terrorist Killings by Secret Army as Voters Give Strong Support to De Gaulle

PARIS (AP) — French voters have overwhelmingly approved President Charles de Gaulle's peace pact with the Algerian nationalists. The Sécet Army Organization, fighting to keep Algeria French, replied with more terrorist killings and defiant proclamations printed in newspaper plants occupied at gunpoint.

Sixty-five per cent of the 26,383,275 voters in metropolitan France endorsed De Gaulle's Algerian policy Sunday in response to his plea for a public show of confidence. Only 25 per cent of the registered voters failed to cast ballots, and 90 per cent of the valid ballots were cast in favor of the peace agreement.

No Voting in Algeria There was no voting in Algeria itself. European extremists there killed at least 26 persons and wounded 67.

Commando bands raided plants of the Oran Echo and Oran Republican in the west Algerian port city early today and forced pressmen at gunpoint to run off thousands of copies of the papers labeled "Special Secret Army Edition."

The rightist secret army was dealt a psychological setback, however, by the French people's thunderous endorsement of De Gaulle's Algerian policy even though it means the end of the once far-flung French empire.

Incomplete returns from metropolitan France and Corsica were: Yes- 17,505,473; no- 1,794,553. A total of 1,102,477 ballots were invalid.

2-Point Referendum De Gaulle's supporters heralded the verdict as a ringing vote of confidence in all aspects of his four-year-old regime. Socialists and Communists, however, emphasized they were backing only his Algerian policy.

De Gaulle put before the voters a two-point proposal. One called for confirmation of the cease-fire signed with the Algerian rebel command at Evian on March 19. The other asked for blank-check.

2 East Berlin Men Use Truck To Break Wall

BERLIN (AP)—Two East Berlin building workers rammed their way through the Red wall in a heavy truck today and escaped to the West in a hail of bullets, the West Berlin government reported.

The escape was made at Boyenstrasse, in the French sector. Neither man was injured.

The two men drove the heavy truck full tilt at the wire barrier, broke through and then slammed the dump truck into the wall itself.

Guards Open Fire The truck smashed down about 15 feet of the wall and came to a stop. The two men jumped out and ran desperately across an open, bombed space to a house about 50 yards on the west side of the border.

While they were trying to open the door of the house to get over, East German border guards opened fire with submachine guns.

Neither man was hit before they got into the house. The East Germans towed the truck away and posted armed guards at the gap in the wall.

Atlas Booster Used To Launch Satellite

An Air Force spokesman said the satellite was carrying a number of test components, some of them classified.

The Lebanese Freighter Suerte goes to the bottom of the Atlantic Ocean Sunday, about 250 miles southeast of Halifax where she was intentionally sunk. Built in Baltimore, Md., in 1944, the ship was grounded in fog off the Nova Scotia coast near Halifax three months ago and badly damaged. She was towed to her isolated grave to prevent bunker oil leaking into coastal waters where it would kill wildfowl and damage beaches and fishing gear.

Nelson Says He Turned Down Offers of Jobs

Governor Moves Closer to Revealing His Political Plans

MADISON — Gov. Gaylord Nelson today moved a step closer to declaring his political plans when he disclosed he has turned down private industry job offers that came to him following his earlier announcement that he will retire from the governorship.

The governor acknowledged at a press conference that he has had several private business employment opportunities, including one that would have removed him from Wisconsin.

Nelson is generally expected to become a candidate for U. S. senator on the Democratic ticket in the fall elections. The first date for the circulation of nomination petitions is May 11, and he is expected to confirm his intentions before that time.

Other pronouncements Nelson today also said: He will send an official communication to the University of Wisconsin soon asking it to prepare for an adjustment of teaching schedules to provide year-around classes to accommodate the critical enrollment bulge.

The state will probably use its condemnation powers more actively in the future to provide land for public outdoors recreation.

The conservation commission decision to replace the personal cars of conservation wardens and other travelling employees with state-owned fleets will probably provide a precedent for the creation of other state agency motor pools in the future, although he said results of the Conservation Department decision in saving money for the state will be studied first.

2 Americans Slain by Reds

2 Others Apparently Taken Prisoner in Guerrilla Ambush

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) —Communist guerrillas killed two American military advisers to South Viet Nam troops and apparently captured two others Sunday in an ambush near a U.S. helicopter base 360 miles north of Saigon.

The four enlisted men were ambushed on a training mission with Vietnamese soldiers near the town of An Chau, on the South China Sea, U.S. military authorities said.

Reds Retreat Reports reaching Saigon said the four were with a group of 35 Vietnamese soldiers at a government outpost when a large Viet Cong band attacked. One Vietnamese was also killed and four wounded.

The Communists withdrew 15 minutes after the raid, apparently expecting a government air strike, the reports said. A government relief force arrived too late to engage the guerrillas.

The ambush brought American casualties in South Viet Nam since last Dec. 1 to 13 killed, 2 wounded and 3 missing. Only one of the previous dead was killed by the Viet Cong. The other American deaths were accidental.

South Vietnamese troops killed 25 guerrillas in a weekend attack near the Cambodian border, the semi-official news agency said.

Inquiry Ordered

Marine Corps Told to Stop Drum-Out Rites

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — The commandant of the Marine Corps has ordered a halt to the drumming out of disgraced Marines, a ceremony revived by a Norfolk commander.

The commandant, Gen. David M. Shoup, said Saturday he had ordered an inspector general's investigation of the matter.

"The local commander neither asked for nor was given authorization for the ceremony," said Shoup.

Col. William C. Capehart received the practice in August 1960 at the Norfolk Marine Barracks, and since that time at least seven Marines have been drummed out of the corps.

In the grim ceremony, the disgraced Marine is marched before a formation of troops while the "death march" is slowly tapped out on the drums. His bad conduct discharge orders are read aloud. Then an officer of the guard comments: "Escort this man from the confines of this U.S. Navy reservation."

Backs Turned The ex-Marine is marched down the line of troops. As he reaches each unit, the commander orders "About face" and the passing Marine is presented with a row of unfriendly backs.

Capehart said the ceremony was not intended "to humiliate or degrade the individual," but "simply to impress on other Marines who might be headed to a bad conduct discharge the seriousness and ultimate consequences of their actions."

Board Starts Probe Of Maritime Strike

Pacific Coast Employers and 3 Unions Draft Statements Outlining Positions in Dispute

WASHINGTON (AP)—A three-man board of inquiry appointed by President Kennedy under the Taft-Hartley law begins today its investigation of a West Coast maritime strike that has caused food shortages in Hawaii.

In designating the board Saturday, the President took the first step toward getting an injunction to end the strike, now in its fourth week.

Representatives of the Pacific Maritime Association and three seafaring unions striking 12 of its ship lines arranged to submit statements giving their versions of the dispute.

Report Due Wednesday
The board has until Wednesday to report to the President. Then he may ask Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy to seek a federal court injunction sending the 5,000 strik-

Macmillan Wants Final Plea to Nikita

U. S. Atmospheric Tests Scheduled for Late This Month

CHICAGO Daily News Service
LONDON — There are insistent reports in London that Prime Minister Harold Macmillan favors a last-minute Anglo-American appeal to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev before the final order is given for a fresh series of American nuclear tests in the atmosphere late this month.

The United States has repeatedly stated that it will conduct the tests unless the Soviet Union agrees before April 15 to a watertight treaty banning further nuclear tests by either side.

Such a treaty, the United States has said, must provide both for control posts on Soviet territory manned by non-Russians and for the right of an international control body to conduct a certain number of on-site inspections of suspected explosions on Soviet territory.

19 Control Posts
The United States has, until now, insisted that there should be at least 19 control posts on Soviet territory and that the international body administering the test ban treaty should have the right to conduct up to 20 on-site inspections per year on Soviet territory.

In a statement in the House of Commons last Tuesday, Macmillan finally went on record to the effect that effective international verification did require the presence of control posts on Soviet territory "at the present state of science."

During recent discussions in Geneva, the British backed up the United States on the need for on-site inspections but were fuzzy about the need for control posts on Soviet soil.

If the prime minister and the President agree on a final appeal to Khrushchev they are expected to ask him for some modification of the previous Russian refusal to agree to any kind of international control or inspection of suspected incidents on Soviet territory.

Kuehn Wants Land Purchase For Highways

Seeks Law Enabling Investment Board To Buy 'Corridors'

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A law to permit the Wisconsin Investment Board to buy "highway corridors for future use" was advocated Sunday night by Philip Kuehn, one of three Republican candidates for governor.

Kuehn spoke at the 10th District GOP caucus in Phelps. Other GOP hopefuls Wilbur Renk and Lt. Gov. Warren Knowles also addressed the meeting, as did Howard J. Boyle who seeks nomination as a U.S. Senate candidate.

Boyle said there "is no difference between the way Alexander Wiley and Gaylord Nelson would vote on the substantial issues of the day."

Left-Wingers
"Why run two left-wing Democrats for the same office?" Boyle asked.

Wiley, the incumbent GOP senator, has not announced his candidacy but is expected to seek a fifth term. Nelson, a Democrat, has announced he will not seek a third term. He is expected to enter the Senate race soon.

Kuehn said that Wisconsin has a long way to go before its roads to and across the northern resort areas "serve as a significant inducement to visitors." He said his plan for buying highway corridors now would mean that the state "will not have to spend millions of dollars years from now buying up land after it had been developed."

"Forestry Bank"
Knowles urged a plan for a "forestry bank" to provide loans and encourage private owners and operators to develop timber lands as a cash crop. He also said "the economic base of northern Wisconsin must be broadened through development of industry and promotion of tourist and recreational assets."

Renk advocated state loans to help the tourist industry. He said one of the biggest industrial development problems is "to get business into rural areas."

Wiley, in a broadcast prepared for use by Wisconsin radio stations during the weekend, said the nation must have a special concern for the more than 12 million youth between 12 and 17 years.

He said their graduation into society "should not provide an excuse for abdication of the responsibility of parents or for society to develop 'spoon-feeding,' pampering programs."

GENOA, Italy (AP) — Lilliana Mirlo Bicchieri, 22, wife of a shipyard worker, today won $240,000 on a 5-cent ticket in Italy's state-run Agnato Lottery.

The lottery was pegged to the Agnato trotting race Sunday in Naples.

The money will be all hers. Italy has no tax on winnings in the state lotteries.

French Model Prefers Death To 'Shame' of Revealing Age

PARIS — A tall, blond model in Paris has preferred death to the "shame" of revealing her age.

Genhied Cameron, Nina Ricci's beautiful model, committed suicide in Paris, according to an official police report, after customs officials at the French-German border forced her to acknowledge that she was 38 and not 30, as her passport indicated.

Genhied left Paris with a group of Ricci's models who were going to Munich for a fashion show.

'Oscar' Reigns in Hollywood Tonight

All Nominees to be Present Except Elizabeth Taylor

HOLLYWOOD — Tonight is Oscar night in movieland and you'll see some of the year's best acting, especially by nominees who will still be smiling after the other guy's name is called.

It's Hollywood's big show, so big that it has to be held 10 miles away in Santa Monica's Civic Auditorium. Just about everybody will be there but Liz Taylor, who is busy in Rome.

Post time is 10:30 p.m., Eastern Standard Time. ABC radio and television will cover the event. Armed forces radio will shortwave it to the world. Televiewers will see clips from the nominated films.

One 'Shoo In'
As the magic hour nears, only the movie "West Side Story" seems a shoo in. The smart money picks the big musical to win all or most of the 11 races for which it is nominated.

Best Actress
If a "West Side Story" bandwagon rolls as predicted, then Natalie Wood, its star, may win best actress — although she was nominated for another picture ("Splendor in the Grass").

Sophia Loren ("Two Women") gave what many felt was a far superior performance — some critics called it the best since Garbo. She could easily be the first actress winner in the 34-year-old awards who spoke a foreign language (Italian) in her role.

The other distaff competition is potent, Geraldine Page, the American Duse, is up for "Summer and Smoke"; Piper Laurie, former flower-eating starlet, for "The Hustler"; and Audrey Hepburn, always a threat, for "Breakfast at Tiffany's."

Men's Race
The men's race for top actor is even closer. It's between Maximilian Schell, the Nazi defense lawyer of "Judgment at Nuremberg," and Paul Newman, the pool shark of "The Hustler."

But grandma — and there are plenty of them among the Academy's 2,500 voters — has two favorites — Spencer Tracy ("Nuremberg") and Charles Boyer ("Fanny").

Best longest bet of the night is Stuart Whitman, the sex deviate of "The Mark."

14 Cuban Refugees Arrive in Mexico After 5 Days Afloat

MEXICO, Mexico (AP)—Fourteen refugees from Cuba arrived in the Yucatan port of Progreso Sunday after five days in a small boat.

The group included a woman and her 11-month-old daughter. "I could not even find milk for my child any longer in Cuba," she said.

The refugees said they left Coloma, on the south coast of Pinar del Rio Province, the night of April 3 because "we could not stand the situation of our country any longer."

Mexican authorities withheld names of the refugees until their status is decided.

Family Help Predicted for Ted Kennedy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Massachusetts Atty. Gen. Edward McCormack says he assumes President Kennedy and Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy will do all they can to help their younger brother, Edward, in his bid for the U.S. Senate.

But so far, McCormack said Sunday, he has seen no indication that the older Kennedy brothers have intervened in the Massachusetts Democratic battle.

McCormack, Edward (Ted) Kennedy, Harvard Prof. H. Stuart Hughes and William E. Higham are seeking the Democratic Senate nomination in the Sept. 18 primary election.

McCormack, nephew of Speaker of the House John W. McCormack, also said in a television interview NBC "Meet the Press" that he is in the race to stay at least through the Democratic convention of June 7, which will endorse one of the candidates.

He said he holds a 2-1 lead in the delegates chosen to date and "I am going to win the convention. If I don't win, my decision as to whether to go further will depend on whether the delegates had a free and independent choice."

McCormack said he fully expects his uncle to campaign in his behalf and "I would assume that the President and the attorney general would do everything they can to see that their brother's ambitions are recognized."

State Brings Suit Against Ervin Stebane

Forest Junction Man Sued for Damage To State Patrol Car

CHILTON — A Forest Junction man whose son was killed in a collision with a State Highway Patrol squad car Thanksgiving Day, 1960, is being sued by the State of Wisconsin for damages to the squad car.

The complaint, asking $519 damages for the wrecked police car, was filed April 2 with the Calumet County Clerk of Court. Named as defendants are Ervin Stebane, whose 16-year-old son, Eugene, was killed in the crash. Stebane's insurance company, Heritage Mutual, is also named as defendant. James L. Karns, commissioner of the Motor Vehicle Department, is the plaintiff. State Attorney General John W. Reynolds and Ray G. Mita, assistant, initiated the action.

The suit is the fourth to come from the fatal accident which occurred about 9:15 a.m. at the U.S. 10 - State 57 intersection on the northern outskirts of Forest Junction.

Pursuing Speeder

The state patrol car, driven by Patrolman Mike Caramanidis, was eastbound on U.S. 10 in pursuit of a speeder when the squad car and a slow moving cattle truck driven by the crash victim, Eugene Stebane, collided. The truck was crossing the intersection from the north.

On Jan. 5, 1961, Stebane and his wife sued Caramanidis and his insurance company, Mutual Service Casualty, for $15,000 and the victim's brother, Gary, 13, who was injured in the crash,

Kroger Reports Sales, Net Gains In First Quarter

An increase in both sales and profits was reported today by Kroger Co. for the first twelve weeks of 1962.

Net income for the first quarter ending March 24 was $3,521,507, an increase of $46,947 over last year. For the quarter, net income was equal to 28 cents per share of common stock.

Sales for the first quarter totaled $437,115,951, an increase of $24,075,083 or six per cent over sales of $431,040,868 for the like twelve weeks in 1961.

Kroger operated Krambo Food Stores.

"Both sales and earnings trends are favorable," said Joseph B. Hall, chairman of the board and chief executive officer. Current programs to increase sales and reduce expenses will be continued, he added.

Sales in the third four-week period ending March 24 totaled $149,690,355, an eight per cent increase over sales of $138,637,060 for the corresponding four weeks in 1961.

Average number of stores in operation during the third period was 1,353 compared to 1,364 during the 1961 third period.

brought suit against similar defendants for $5,000.

Caramanidis filed a counter suit Feb. 2. He sought $7,500 from Stebane and his insurance company for injuries he suffered in the crash.

Settlement on the suits filed by the Stebanes was thought to have been reached Nov. 27, 1961, but the cases were reopened at the March term of Circuit Court, Stebane's attorney announced.

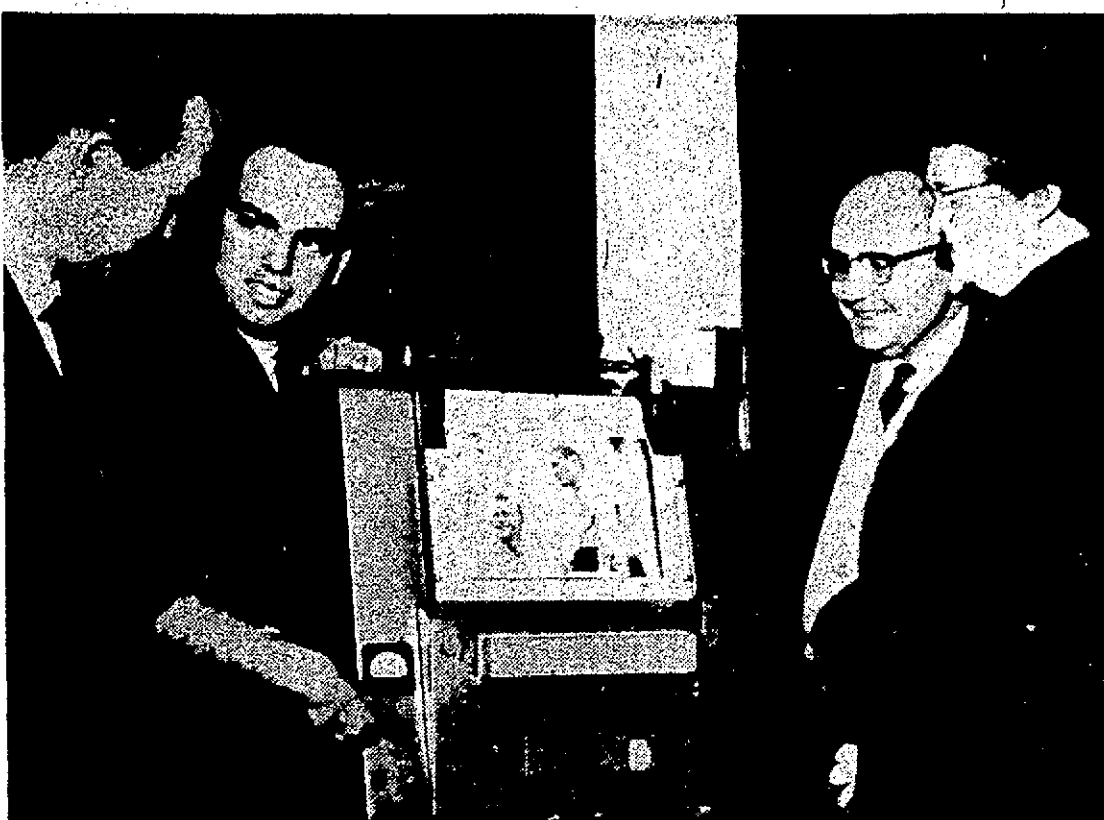

Caramanidis' suit was dismissed by the court Dec. 15, 1961.

Kroger Appoints Vice President

Appointment of Leland Davis as vice president - advertising has been announced by Joseph B. Hall, chairman of the board of Kroger Co.

Davis has for the past seven years been associated with N. W. Ayer and Son, Inc., in Philadelphia and with Young and Rubicam, Inc., Los Angeles, handling some of the nation's top food and industrial advertising accounts.

He was previously with Kroger from 1951 to 1955, starting as a member of the public relations staff. He later transferred to retail operations in the Louisville, Ky., division and was a member of the advertising department staff in Kroger's general office in

Homing Pigeons No Longer Carry News for Most Japanese Papers

BY RAY PY

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Three years ago most Japanese newspaper reporters quit using homing pigeons to carry the news to the city desk.

As far as 27-year-old Isamu Ebitsuho is concerned, the move was a step in the right direction. Most Japanese papers are going modern, taking their direction from newspapers in America and England.

Ebitsuho is a reporter on the toughest beat in the world — the Tokyo police run — and currently is a graduate student at the University of Wisconsin. The reporter was in the Fox Cities this weekend visiting with Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Millar, 707 Congress Place, Neenah.

Walkie-Talkie Popular

"Homing pigeons have long been a journalistic tradition in my country," Ebitsuho said. "Reporters on Japanese newspapers took a careful of the birds with them on assignment. When their facts were gathered, the reporter would attach the paper to the pigeon, and the bird would fly to the office."

"News of Japan's surrender on the battleship Missouri was carried to the shore by pigeons," Ebitsuho said. "Many small papers still use the birds but bigger papers rely on more updated communications."

The reporter, an employee of the English printed Asahi Evening News, said most newsmen in Tokyo and surrounding communities convey news by walkie-talkie. Telephone communications are not as efficient in Japan as in the U. S.

Ebitsuho describes his "run" in Tokyo as "active." Tokyo, the biggest city in the world, offers the police reporter more than his share of work. In many cases, Ebitsuho said, the newspapers will authorize its police reporters to work as a police detective and solve many of the city's crimes.

The University of Wisconsin student, who will return to his "run" after classes in July, is a graduate of the University of Sophia in Tokyo. He worked for the Evening News for two years before applying and receiving a graduate scholarship and taking a year's leave of absence.

Ebitsuho's biggest story to date has been the coverage of several spontaneous student riots and violence demonstrations in Tokyo.

Likes Politics

Although police reporting is exciting," the young man has aspirations as a political writer and would like to become an American correspondent for a Japanese newspaper.

The Asahi Evening News is one of four metropolitan newspapers owned by the Asahi Newspapers Inc. The four organizations print approximately 3 million papers. Ebitsuho works only on the English edition, which circulates about 50,000 copies in the Tokyo area.

Site of Cemetery

Crews Find Skeleton On Factory Location

CLINTONVILLE — As workmen were excavating for footings for an addition to the Hansen Glove Corp. building on Seventh Street on Saturday afternoon, the partial remains of a human skeleton were uncovered.

The skull and several other bones were found about four feet from the surface. The workmen notified William Martens, plant manager for Hansen Glove, who, in turn, notified authorities. A Clintonville undertaker was called, who will have the remains buried at Graceland Cemetery.

First Burial
The Hansen Glove factory is built on city-owned property, which is the former site of the first cemetery for Clintonville. Called the Town of Larabee cemetery and then the Protestant Burying Grounds, the earliest burial date at this site was 1857. The first burial was Mary Clinton, wife of Uriah P. Clinton. She was buried on a plot near the present day First Methodist Church and later transferred to the cemetery.

Removal Began
Removals from the Protestant Burying Grounds began after 1889 by people who had purchased lots in the Graceland Cemetery. It was not until April, 1933, official steps were taken to vacate the original cemetery because of unsightly and unkept grounds and because the City of Clintonville wanted these grounds to construct a factory for the Hansen Glove Corp.

The people who did not have lots in Graceland made arrangements to purchase them and have the bodies moved from the Seventh Street cemetery location to Graceland. All of the marked and known graves were moved at that time.

Tobacco, Steel Stocks Suffer

Anti-Cigarette Campaign Abroad Hurts Many Issues

NEW YORK (AP) — Tobacco and steel were weak as the stock market declined in moderate trading early this afternoon.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off .50 at 255.20 with industrials down 1.30, rails up .30 and utilities off .20.

Losses stretched to 3 or 4 points among tobaccos and to well over a point among steels. Elsewhere in the list most changes were fractional.

Tobacco Jolted

The increasing anti-cigarette campaign abroad, capped by Italy's ban against cigarette advertising jolted the tobacco stocks.

Steels were depressed by reports that incoming orders for steel are not likely to show improvement until fall.

Chemicals, drugs, nonferrous metals and aerospace issues also were mostly lower.

American Tobacco fell more than 4 points. Losses of 3 or more were taken by Lorillard, Liggett & Myers and Reynolds. Philip Morris sank more than 2.

Among the steels, Jones & Laughlin fell about 2. Down more than a point were U.S. and Republic Steel. Bethlehem lost a fraction.

Aside from a drop of nearly a point by Chrysler, autos didn't do too badly. Ford gained a fraction. General Motors was down a bit.

Union Carbide Falls

A drop exceeding a point by Union Carbide was about the worst among chemicals. Du Pont rose fractionally.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off 4.04 at 635.59. Prices were irregularly lower.

Driver Flees

Car Crashes After High-Speed Chase

The young driver of a car that crashed while being pursued by police, then fled the scene leaving an injured girl in the car, is in Outagamie County jail today.

The youth has admitted to police that he stole a car and tried to steal two other cars after the crash.

Marlene Massey, 17, 325 E. Harding St., received a head cut that required six stitches when the car rammed the rear of another car on County Trunk Z, then skidded 301 feet into a ditch.

Kimberly patrolman Donald Schmeck said he pursued a 1955 model car at 12:30 a.m. Sunday after he saw it speeding on the Community Bridge.

100 Miles an Hour
The car went through two stop signs and left skid marks up to 157 feet long as it slid around corners in Kimberly. Schmeck said he pursued the car west on County Trunk Z toward Appleton, and locked his speedometer at 100 miles an hour.

He said the car's engine has been modified to produce 348 horsepower and has been clocked at 140 miles an hour. Schmeck said during the course of the chase the owner of the car changed places with the youth who was driving at the time of the crash. Police said the car's owner has no driver's license.

After the crash the 17-year-old on the American Stock Exchange in moderately active trading. Corporate bonds were mixed. U.S. government bonds edged lower.

Rebel Against Stalin, Tito, Imprisoned Again

BY GEORGE WELLER
Chicago Daily News Service

ROME — Milovan Djilas, Yugoslav's jockey - sized but durable 51-year-old rebel against Stalin and Tito, gave the Chicago Daily News Foreign Service an off-record interview in Belgrade several months before his arrest Saturday.

Under pain of imprisonment, Djilas had been warned by Marshal Tito's police not to express his views. Djilas bowed and obeyed on condition that his personal liberty remain inviolate.

Now that Djilas has been arrested and all his manuscripts seized, the interview can be published.

No Prison Pallor

Djilas is short, slim and dark, with no trace of prison pallor from his last 4½-year term — ending in January, 1961 — in Sremska Mitrovica Prison.

His manner is warm though guarded. Asked whether he was working on any other book than his pugnacious "The New Class" (which called Tito "a great revolutionary but without original ideas"), Djilas answered, "I am only working at polishing two books, I wrote in prison, a novel called "Mojenogro" and a biography of a national Montenegrin hero, Bishop Negosh, who liberated us from Turkey."

He denied he was writing anything political.

Reason for Imprisonment

Actually he must have been working on his new "conversations with Stalin" whose revelation that Tito almost seized Albania with Stalin's consent has now put him behind bars.

Djilas sees today's revolutions as tending to extremes that are then tamed down by a new bureaucratic class living off privileges.

"After (Fulgencia) Batista it was inevitable that Cuba should have a (Fidel) Castro," he said.

Russia and China are contending for little Albania with Tito holding the middle but tending toward Moscow.

Djilas is a Montenegrin, born next door to Albania, son of royalist army officer.

Logical Ally

"China was the logical ally for Albania, among all the wavering Communist states, simply because she was the safest. She is too far away from Europe to be overthrown by Moscow," said Djilas.

Although the United States has poured close to $2 billion into Yugoslavia, Tito's defection has not been imitated by other satellite states as Washington hoped.

Djilas' explanation is that Khrushchev stopped them from imitating us. He convinced the other Communist states that Yugoslavia was revisionist." (in Communist phrasing "revisionist" means slack in pressing for Communist goals).

"But there's an important difference between Stalin and Khrushchev in that Stalin brought Eastern Europe into line by force, but Khrushchev introduces persuasion."

Record Reported for White House Visitors

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House reports more tourists passed through its doors Saturday than in any other single day in history.

The record number of 18,229 bettered by about 5,000 the previous high for any single day, the press office said.

This was the first Saturday when tourists were permitted to view the executive mansion from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. The old hours were 10 a.m. to noon.

Tense Nerves Block Bowels

New tonic-tablet laxative acts on colonic muscles... de-constipates overnight.

The muscular wall of your colon contains nerves known to medicine as Auerbach's Plexus. In regular people, these nerves tell the colon muscles to propel and expel waste from the body. But tense nerves or emotional upset can block your normal bowel habits. Your colon muscle impulses are no longer strong enough to eliminate waste—which dries and shrinks, further aggravating the condition.

Relief, doctors say, lies in the non-irritating, de-constipating principle of a new tonic-tablet called COLONOID.

Oral leading laxatives, only COLONOID gives you its special 3-way overnight relief for tension-caused constipation. (1) COLONOID stimulates your colonic nerve network, to further activate and regularize its muscular "movement". (2) COLONOID's unique re-bulking action helps re-tone tense colon muscles. (3) COLONOID moisturizes for easy passage without pain or strain.

COLONOID relieves even chronic constipation overnight; is so gentle it was hospital-proved safe even for expectant mothers. Get COLONOID today. INTRODUCTORY SIZE 42¢

UAR Releases 4 Frenchmen

Diplomats Were Being Tried on Espionage Charges

BY GEORGE MACARTHUR

CAIRO (AP)—The United Arab Republic halted the espionage trial of four French diplomats Saturday and said they would be permitted to leave on the first plane to Paris.

A high government source said the decision was meant as a sign of support from President Gamal Abdel Nasser's regime for the spirit in which French President Charles de Gaulle was carrying out the French cease-fire accord with the Algerian nationalists.

U.A.R. sources said that contacts had been undertaken by the French some time ago to obtain release of the diplomats. These sources said that France promised to stop the operations of a Marseilles radio station beamed at National Security Council on grounds that the Red Chinese have made no overtures.

Under present law the United States could give food to the Red Chinese, as "famine relief," on the basis of an administrative decision.

The law provides that food can be given to "friendly peoples," even if their governments are unfriendly.

The picture regarding selling is more complex. Congressional action would apparently be necessary to sell food for Chinese currency. Theoretically selling is permitted only with "friendly nations."

It is not clear whether, under some specific circumstances, executive interpretations of the law could make congressional approval unnecessary.

The administration recognizes, of course, that such a decision would have wide political repercussions.

Atmosphere in Bonn Changing

Adenauer's Absence No Longer Halts Capital's Business

Chicago Daily News Service

BONN — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer returns to Bonn today to a well-filled in-basket and a subtly altered atmosphere in the West German capital.

For three weeks the elderly chancellor has been basking in the gentle climate and playing bocce at his favorite retreat beside Lake Como in Northern Italy.

Throughout most of Adenauer's nearly 14-year tenure the normal business of West Germany's government has ground to a clanking halt whenever he has been absent on a holiday or because of illness.

Times Have Changed

But close observers of the political scene in Bonn say this no longer is quite the case. The Bundestag (parliament) and the various ministers have been pursuing their duties actively.

Another small step seems to have been taken in the slow and complex process of transferring the lonely old autocrat's immense personal authority to a functioning parliamentary system.

Among other things, says Die Welt of Hamburg, the chancellor's return is a "welcome gesture of respect" for the Bundestag. Adenauer will take his place on the government bench Tuesday when the budget for his office will be debated. It will provide his Socialist opponents an opportunity to unload directly some of their criticisms.

French high commissioner is still in charge, however, until an independent Algerian government takes over.

a tragically divided church to a tragically divided world."

Last year, as he urged, governing bodies of the United Presbyterian Church and the Episcopal Church joined in issuing invitations for the talks to the other two denominations.

Merger of the four communions would bring together Christians retaining age-old creeds and traditional liturgies, and those with more informal non-ritualistic customs.

However, the roots of all four groups intertwine back in the early days of the Protestant reformation 450 years ago.

No Merger for Decade

Dr. Blake has estimated that even if good progress is made, it would take at least 10 years to form the merger. With the exception of the Episcopal Church, the other three denominations are products of previous mergers themselves that have developed in this century in the momentum for fuller Christian unity.

Chairmen of the negotiating teams are:

Methodist Bishop Glenn R. Phillips of Denver; the Rt. Rev. Robert F. Gibson Jr. of Richmond, Va., Episcopal bishop of the Virginia diocese; the Rev. Dr. David G. Colwell of the First Congregational church of Washington, D. C., of the United Church; and the Rev. Dr. James I. McCord, president of Princeton Theological Seminary, heading the Presbyterian group.

Your Money's Worth No Inflation Aids Business Upturn

BY SYLVIA PORTER

There are two key characteristics which set the business upturn of 1961-62 dramatically apart from any previous economic advance of the post World War II period. They are (1) no inflation is occurring and (2) borrowing is remaining easy throughout the expansion.

The bottom of the last recession was reached 14 months ago, in February of 1961. The pattern of this recovery cycle has been fixed now and unless unforeseeable developments alter it abruptly in the months ahead, the economic historians will place the "no inflation-easy money" aspects at the top of the tale of this fourth cycle of business upturn since World War II ended.

To you, both of these aspects have direct bread-and-butter meaning now and for the future. Consider first the facts.

In this entire recovery cycle, the government's consumer price index — the yardstick by which we measure changes in our cost of living and inflation trends — has risen only a bit over 1 per cent.

Price Stability

This is the virtual equivalent of stability in prices, a remarkable performance in our times. What's more, most of the modest rise has been due to the continued climb in the cost of services — medical and personal care, public transportation, recreation. The prices of many goods you buy actually have fallen in these months. Now that there has been a non-inflationary settlement in the steel industry, we can be confident that the steel wage contract will not upset the general price balance.

There has been no inflation — that's flat.

In this entire recovery cycle too, credit has remained easily available at our banks and other financial institutions for mortgages to build or buy homes, for business loans to finance modernization or expansion, for installment loans to purchase big-ticket items.

Not at any time has our central bank — the Federal Reserve System which regulates the supply and cost of credit in the U.S. — felt it desirable to slap on the credit brakes to make money "tight" and more expensive to get. Not at any time has the demand for loans from private borrowers outrun the supply and compelled a rationing in the marketplace of the credit pool. This is an extraordinary record, without precedent in the postwar period. Because there has been no inflation to fight with credit curbs, there has been no clamp-down on credit — this also is flat.

Tight Money

In each postwar expansion before this, tight money became a bitter fact to millions of Americans and as a result, they had to shelve necessary as well as desirable projects.

Now, what does this mean? To businessmen specifically, it means the business upturn is not buoyant enough to permit across-the-board price hikes. The big profit-makers of this era will be corporations which put a premium on efficiency, initiative, restraint of cost increases.

To consumers specifically, it means a bona fide buyer's market in which, we, the purchasers of goods, are in command.

To borrowers of money specifically, it means a period of abundant credit in which, if you're an acceptable credit risk, you'll get the loans you need at relatively steady costs.

Recession Control

To our country, it means we are well into a new economic era and in the 1960s our over-riding challenge will not be the control of runaway inflation but rather, the control of recessions and the limiting of unemployment. There are no shortages of materials or manpower or machinery to spur price rises now. We are no longer catching up with demands pent-up during a war or depression. We are not the dominant producers of goods in a world far behind us. We cannot now shrug off the competition of efficient factories in nations all around us.

Against this background, it would take genius to create a runaway inflation!

To us all, then, it signals a return to conditions and challenges not seen since the tough days of the 1930s. This is the fundamental message of the pattern of the 1961-62 business advance.

Beneficiaries Affected by Social Security Changes

Recent changes in the social security law affect current beneficiaries, as well as those about to retire, Frank M. Donnack, manager of the Appleton district office, points out.

All beneficiaries who were under 72 years of age during any part of last year are still required to file an annual report of earnings if they earned more than $1,200 during 1961. The deadline for filing is April 15. In filing, beneficiaries are asked to estimate how much they will earn during 1962.

If you are about to retire, your social security office also needs to fit.

Even Courts Must Change

William S. White, the Washington columnist, deplors the decision by the United States Supreme Court on reapportionment or what he calls "rewriting the constitution and meddling in politics." Noting that the decision was opposed by "the two best legal minds on the bench," Justices Felix Frankfurter and John Marshall Harlan, he nevertheless points out that the decision on its face is a good thing. He says, "It is undeniable that rural voters in many states have been given disproportionate places in their legislature by redistricting formulas which penalize city voters."

What he deplors is not the effect of the decision on voting rules, but rather a change from rules followed by the supreme court for nearly 200 years. He says, the court "has no right under the constitution" to step into such a case. It is difficult to see why a court cannot change if it finds itself wrong, even after 200 years, particularly if there is no other way out.

White holds, however, that there is another way out and that the "practical answer is that the people themselves must work out their own difficulties here, however long and hard the task," if we are to maintain the constitution of the United States." Now that is logic that is very difficult to follow. If we have a constitution which in fact does not work, which in fact has for many years disenfranchised great blocs of American citizens, is it not time for a change? What logic can there possibly be in insisting that the supreme court refuse to take action simply because it has followed that course for many years.

The whole basis of American citizenship is representative government. The long years people have been punished through this rule of the court is a thing to be deplored, not a thing that we should fight to maintain. If there is any danger of losing the constitution of the United States, it lies in permitting legislatures to ignore constitutional provisions rather than in seeking a remedy for the sickness.

Mr. White, in a burst of emotional language, says that "Not a thousand rotten boroughs in the legislature can justify what is now happening. For the supreme court is being made the agent of a determined political drive by urban interests to lift the rural masters from the backs of the urban dwellers."

That is a very interesting statement but its meaning could very well be put in these words, "The supreme court is being made the agent of a determined political drive by urban interests to lift the rural masters from the backs of the urban dwellers."

It is, of course, nonsense to tell the people to find another remedy when there is no other remedy. The rural authorities have gained power through a shift of population. The large number of people who left the rural areas to make their livelihood in urban areas simply became disenfranchised and thus have no power now to make any change.

It is impossible to amend the constitution, as White urges, for the simple reason the legislatures are in the hands of rural voters who will not approve any amendment which would rob them of their present power. The most obvious thing about the case is that America has come to a crisis in which a breakdown of government by the people is threatened. The supreme court wisely acted to prevent such a breakdown and to put the government back into the hands of the people which means moving much of the authority to the urban areas where the people live.

Should Boxing be Abolished?

Boxing: The art of attack and defense with the fists practiced as a sport.

This is the standard definition of a sport which has come in for considerable verbal buffeting since the unfortunate fatal beating of Benny (Kid) Paret by the fists of Emile Griffith in a New York ring. Paret was not the first to die as a result of injuries suffered from the fists of an opponent and, we venture to say, he probably won't be the last, although the time may be nearer than ever before when the sport will be abolished.

The supporters of prize fighting, or boxing, as a sport in which death or injury, they claim, is merely an accidental effect and not the basic purpose of the action, are perhaps theoretically correct. But in actual practice, this is not the case. Inherent in the definition, as given above as far as "the art of attack" is concerned, is the real purpose of a prize fighter: to beat his opponent senseless and, if not that, to beat him to a point where he cannot either retaliate or protect himself, as in the case of Paret.

To compare boxing with other sports in which injuries occur, as for example football, is to ignore the basic goals of the sport itself. Sure, participants are injured in almost any sport we can think of but these injuries, even death sometimes, are in fact accidental results and in no way

The OAS Is Intolerable

The Secret Army Organization in Algiers must be nearing the end of its rope. The Secret Army Organization known as the OAS could not possibly exist without a great deal of help from a large number of influential people in France. Thousands of dollars must be supplied to keep the organization going every day. The thousands have been coming in and have been reaching this organization in spite of the fact that they are fighting against the established government of France.

This support has been given of course because many French people believe that Algeria should remain French. For this reason they have tolerated the outlaw organization and its murderous attacks upon the Moslems in Algeria for many years. This tolerance must end shortly, however, if for no other reason, simply because of the wild excesses which recently have characterized the OAS activities. The end seemed near when the desperate outlaw organization fired upon French troops killing a number of young French boys recently arrived in Algiers. Since that time there have been heavy losses inflicted upon the OAS but they still are active and still well supplied.

No Deterrent to Murder

There has been some agitation in Wisconsin to institute the death penalty for murder following the brutal slaying recently of a policeman by a youth near Milwaukee. But the hope that capital punishment would serve to lower the rate of murder is a futile one because of the very nature of the crime.

A report of a study of homicides in New York City which has a lot of them was released recently by Police Commissioner Michael Murphy. The one discernible reason for the increase in murders—about 15 per cent in New York—was the "continuing moral disintegration in the home." Almost half New York murders occurred in the home and a fourth of them stemmed from violent family squabbles. The great majority were spontaneous and unplanned, resulting from insane anger.

Obviously the death penalty can be considered as a possible deterrent only to those crimes which are carefully planned with the pros and cons of the crime weighed by the potential criminal. But even here, if a person is cold-blooded enough to plan in advance a killing for what he believes to be sufficient reason, there is grave doubt that the threat of execution would stop him. After all, he doesn't intend to get caught.

The death penalty is no deterrent at all to the blow struck in ungovernable rage.

West's Influence Has Improved Despite Geneva's Stalemate

BY WALTER LIPPMANN

Looking back, it can be said, I think, that in the first round at Geneva, which ended last week when the three foreign ministers went home, all was accomplished by diplomacy that diplomacy could accomplish.

Lippmann recognition on both sides that the existing balance of forces prevents them from making war and from making peace. Neither side is strong enough to impose its own terms on the other, and there is no compromise in sight which both sides can afford to sign. Both the Soviet Union and the Western powers are living in a military stalemate in Germany and in a political standoff.

From our point of view the situation has improved during the past year. The big difference is that as late as last June, when the President saw Chairman Khrushchev in Vienna, the crisis in Berlin had a time limit, in the nature of an ultimatum. Unless by the end of 1961 the West agreed to the Soviet proposals for West Berlin and East Germany, Mr. Khrushchev would sign a separate treaty with East Germany, and then we would be faced with the ugly task of dealing with Herr Ulbricht about access to West Berlin. This was the threat which confronted us last summer.

The threat was withdrawn during the Rusk-Gromyko conversations in September. There were, I think, two reasons. One is that the President had convinced Mr. Khrushchev that he would retaliate if Mr. Ulbricht interfered with access and that, therefore, the Soviet Union could not divest itself of the risks in Berlin by signing a separate treaty. In fact, it would merely place its most vital interests in Mr. Ulbricht's hands. The other reason is that by building the wall Mr. K. although it cost him dearly in the propaganda contest, reduced drastically the threat of West Berlin to the East German satellite. It ceased to be an escape hatch, it ceased to be a show window, and it has become a much less efficient place for intelligence work and political operations.

The net result is that for the time being the status quo in West Berlin is one that both sides can live with. But not forever, and almost certainly not for very long. West Berlin remains, as Gen. Eisenhower once called it, "abnormal." It is surrounded by the East German Communists who have the power to make life very difficult indeed for the inhabitants. West Berlin has no settled and clearly defined juridical basis. The best proof of this is that the West Germans and the people of West Berlin require constant public assurance that we are still standing with them. They need this in order to continue to live and work and invest in West Berlin. But though this kind of thing can go on for a while, it cannot go on forever. We have only one vice president to send to Berlin and he has been there. The President has no more brothers, and that leaves him with three brothers-in-law and a wife. Gen. Clay cannot be asked to spend the rest of his life in West Berlin.

Sooner or later, the freedom of West Berlin will have to be guaranteed in an international covenant which makes it an international city under the specific protection of the great powers, the general protection of the NATO and the Warsaw alliance, and of the United Nations.

But that eventual solution, although both sides know that it is coming, cannot now be spelled out in a treaty which everyone concerned with Germany could sign. The Soviet government cannot sign a paper which recognizes that West Berlin and the corridors to it are not under the sovereignty of the East German state. And we cannot sign a paper which says in black and white that there are two German states.

All that both sides can now do is what they appear to have done, which is to deflate the Berlin crisis without reaching a Berlin settlement.

It has long been clear that no general disarmament policy can be negotiated unless and until there is a settlement of the German question. Neither side dares to disarm while there is an unresolved vital conflict that could lead to a world war. At the most, there may be possible some pacifying agreements on the fringes of the East-West problem, as for example a non-aggression pact between the NATO and Warsaw alliances, an agreement about outer space, a tacit agreement about spheres of influence in Southeast Asia built around the neutralization of Laos.

As for nuclear testing, it has been evident for at least a year that there could be no agreement because both sides want to make more tests — the Soviet Union because they are behind us in the nuclear art, we because we want to stay ahead of them. There is, as the papers have been saying in the past few days, some reason to hope that the time may not be too far off when both sides feel that they have learned about all that can be learned from testing in the atmosphere. There are scientists of the greatest competence who think that that time is very near.

The general situation — no war, no peace — is tolerable but uncomfortable. It is very messy and for anyone who in-

Wisconsin's Noble Dead at Shiloh

100 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for April 19, 1862.

The people of this State are called upon to mourn the loss of a large number of her noble sons who have fallen in defending the honor of our nation.

Three regiments of our brave and true men were in the thickest of the battle at Pittsburg Landing (Battle of Shiloh) and our State has just cause to be proud of their gallant conduct on that occasion.

While we mourn the loss of many brave men, that mourning is mingled with pride and joy in contemplating the noble deeds of our heroic soldiers. Two field officers have fallen in this battle! Col. James S. Alban and Maj. J. W. Crain of the 18th Regiment have given their lives to their country. (Alban, about 50 years old, was an early settler of Portage County; Maj. Crain, 35 or 40, was from Milwaukee).

We have not space to mention all the officers that have fallen in this battle, nor have we received full accounts. Among the killed we notice the names of Capt. Edward Saxo of the Waushara and Green Lake Rangers; Capt. Oliver D. Pease of the Union Guards of Hanchettville; Capt. George E. Waldo of the Manitowoc and Kewaunee Guards; and Capt. J. H. Compton of the Albany Pinery Guards.

Gen. U. S. Grant, in his official report, says: "The country will have to mourn the loss of many brave men who fell at the Battle of Pittsburg, or Shiloh, more properly called. The exact loss in killed and wounded will be known in a day or two; at present I can only give it approximately at 1,500 killed and 3,500 wounded.

"The loss of the artillery was great, many pieces being disabled by the enemy's shots and some losing all their horses and many men. There probably were not less than 200 horses killed. "The loss of the enemy in

Washington Negroes Numerical Majority

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Random and lazy jottings while feeding the pigeons in the exhilarating sunshine of Lafayette park:

The White House remains one of the great shrines for Americans, and increasing thousands of foreign visitors. Guides escort vast crowds through its portals on every day of the year. . . . You can judge the relations of your Congressman with the White House by the kind of tour he can arrange for you. The friendly legislator does better. . . . The sand blasting of government buildings during the last year has transformed some of them so that they appear almost like new. . . . But the Internal Revenue building, perhaps appropriately, remains grey and grim among its neighbors. . . . The new office buildings housing senators and representatives are pushy, as their critics have said, and far more costly in appearance and almost surely in fact than the office facilities provided for even the highest ranking government officials in Wisconsin.

The annual increase in the population of Negroes in the capital gives one a reminder of the reasons for the emphasis upon civil rights issues here. The Negroes now constitute a clear numerical majority of the residents of the District of Columbia proper, as more and more of the white residents move to new and ever more distant subdivisions outside the capital district. . . .

One of the better jokes remembered after a long session of speech making by high governmental officials: An optimist is the woman in the audience who starts putting on her shoes when the speaker on the platform says "now in conclusion."

REMINDER
Malcolm Brown, the building and grounds superintendent at the state capitol at Madison, should be reminded of the intriguing vacuum sweeper used by the National Park Service here to sweep up debris from the walks and the turf in the heavily used Washington parks. . . .

Your reporter confesses to a more than ordinary fondness for historical monuments and statuary found in such profusion in Washington parks and circles and other conspicuous sites and wonders. Have not Wisconsin policy makers been too conservative in this regard? . . .

Wisconsin legislators in their next session will be asked to ratify, along with those of other states, the anti-poll tax amendment which has been passed by the U.S. Senate handily and is virtually sure to clear the House of Representatives with equal ease. Presumably there will be no doubt, in view of Wisconsin's liberal history on issues involving voting rights, about its endorsement of the constitutional amendment. . . . The vast number of porters, messengers, guards, police, guides and hard-to-define uniformed functionaries in government buildings is in suggestive contrast to the lean personnel arrangements in the Wisconsin statehouse for the same purposes.

The stories about the crime wave here, within the shadow of the government buildings, have apparently not been exaggerated. The problem is serious and growing. Expanding the police services is one of the great current issues in municipal affairs of the city that continues to be directed by the unwieldy and frequently indifferent hand of the Congress.

construction continues at a feverish pace, a daily reminder of the apparently irreversible tendency for centralization of governmental power in the land. . . . The size of some of the pringled and left upon the field was greater than ours. In wounded the estimate cannot be made as many of them have been sent to Corinth and other points. "The enemy suffered terribly from demoralization and desertion."

Someone Forgot Wiley When Assigning Space In New Office Building

No Swanky Suite for Senior GOP Member of the Senate

BY RICHARD P. POWERS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Alexander Wiley of Wisconsin is the senior Republican in the Senate, where seniority is practically controlling in the dispensing of committee assignments and privileges.

But Wiley apparently was overlooked when swanky office suites on the Senate side of the Capitol's new multi-million dollar East Front extension were assigned. "I was not consulted," Wiley replied when asked how this had happened.

Private Use

All 100 senators have regular office suites in the old and new Senate office buildings. Prior to the recent rebuilding of the East Front of the Capitol, the building contained 29 rooms assigned to Democratic and Republican senators with seniority for their private use. Many used these for privacy or to relax.

When the new East front of the Capitol was built, 23 additional such offices were made available, bringing the total to 52. These were assigned to 32 Democrats and 20 Republicans.

But Wiley, in spite of the fact he has served longer in the Senate than any other present Republican member, was not given one of these rooms.

Mansfield Decides

Assignment of the rooms is decided by Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., Senate Democratic leader and chairman of the Senate Rules Committee. Mansfield was not available to comment on how Wiley was overlooked. Wiley indicated he would be given the first one that becomes available, Wiley said.

"Recently I have had some discussions with the chairman of the Senate Rules Committee, regarding new offices resulting from expansion of the East wing of the Capitol. According to the chairman of the Rules Committee, (Mansfield) these offices were to be allocated on the principle of seniority.

"For myself this matter is not of great, world shaking significance. Currently, I and my staff can work with the existing space."

"Recognizing that offices nearer to the Senate would be advantageous, however, I have talked with the majority leader, (Mansfield) and hope that East wing space, becoming available, will be allocated to the senior minority member for better fulfilling responsibilities to his constituency and to the country."

Wisconsin's other senator, William Proxmire, a Democrat, likewise is without one of the private offices.

In Proxmire's case, he does not rate one because of the lack of seniority at the present. And Proxmire is not expected to take one when available in the future as he criticized the construction of these offices at the time the East Front was being rebuilt.

Some 32nd Men Ask To Remain on Duty After Deactivation

MANITOWOC (AP) — Fifty-seven officers and 92 enlisted men have asked to remain on active duty with the Army after the 32nd Division is deactivated later this year, the Wisconsin state's adjutant general's office said today in a letter to the Manitowoc Herald-Times.

The division is slated to return to its status as a Wisconsin National Guard Division no later than Oct. 14, one year after it was ordered to active duty at Ft. Lewis, Wash., in the Berlin crisis.

Of the 57 officer requests for extension of duty, 18 have been approved to date, 12 have been disapproved, one returned without action and 26 are pending. All 92 applications of enlisted men have been approved.

Reds Blame Bad Butter For Dysentery

BERLIN (AP)—Communist authorities said Saturday there is an epidemic of dysentery, more than 20,000 cases—three of them fatal—in the East Berlin area, and virtually banned travel by their citizens. They blamed it on bad butter.

The disease began in East Berlin at the end of last week. Early this week it spread to the surrounding areas. In other places isolated cases have been reported, and authorities said they were due to visits to or from Berlin.

They banned sports events and other assemblages and decreed that East Germans traveling must have a medical certificate to prove they are not infected.

A newly formed commission to combat dysentery issued a statement saying the epidemic was caused by a small quantity of infected butter, which was withdrawn from the market.

Western officials express belief the outbreak has been complicated by food shortages, and that East German authorities have hidden its true extent. They discounted, however, a report in one West Berlin paper that there have been 34 deaths.

So far the epidemic has not spread to West Berlin, although the city is surrounded by East German territory.

No Endorsement In 9th District

EAU CLAIRE (AP)—The Ninth District Republican Caucus recessed Saturday until June 2 without endorsing a candidate for Congress.

Leo Bell, 43-year-old history and science teacher at Black River Falls High School, was the only person presenting himself for consideration.

It had been expected that Assemblyman Rober I. Johnson of Mondovi would ask for the endorsement.

By recessing until June the caucus left the door open for Johnson and others to make bids.

Rep. Lester Johnson, Democrat of Black River Falls, is the present district congressman.

Students Must Pay Attention to Specific and General Concepts

BY LESLIE J. NASON, ED. D.
Professor of Education
University of Southern California

The importance of paying attention to specific as well as general concepts while you study cannot be overemphasized. Take, for instance, this letter:

Dear Mr. Nader:

I am a law student who flunked out of university law school. I determined to find out why I was deficient and studied general semantics, logic and in desperation attempted to learn self-hypnosis. I returned to the university and re-examined on a deficient subject. I failed.

I did better than average work in undergraduate level. But suddenly the roof caved in and I am unable to find myself. Please help me.

O M, Washington
Your pattern of study which produced success in undergraduate work obviously is not adequate for the advanced study of law.

The very fact that you misspelled my name indicates that you grasp only a general concept of what you read. It takes attention to the exact meanings to study law.

Dear Dr. Nason:

How can I improve my grade on essay type tests? I study hard. I am able to answer all the questions. However, I get less than full credit. The only marks on the paper are "explain specifically" or "example."

L. M., Jackson, Mich.

You cannot expect the instructor to understand that you know facts unless they are actually written into your answer. Nothing counts except what is on your paper! When you study for a test of this type, practice answering questions. Think of the answer to a question and ask yourself: "What precise information can I give?" During the test ask yourself the same question. You will clarify your answers and make higher grades.

Dear Dr. Nason:

How should I take "true-false" tests? I am so poor at this type test that my mistakes come in bunches.

Mrs. S. S., Milltown, N.J.
The fact that you make mistakes in groups is a clue to your difficulty. Worry over one question lingers in your mind while you answer the next three or four questions. This distraction causes you to misread questions. True-or-false test frequently depend on unusual wording. Each statement requires your undivided attention. After you answer a question, forget it and concentrate on the next one.

All-Star Cast Salutes Bard Of Broadway

Large Crowd Hears Music, Thoughts of Oscar Hammerstein II

BY WILLIAM GLOVER
NEW YORK (AP)—A once-in-a-lifetime cast of stars paid tribute Sunday night to Broadway's beloved bard, the late Oscar Hammerstein II.

"He was a gentle man with an iron hand," one performer recalled. That's how the company saluted him—with a warm affection that avoided sticky sentimentality.

The capacity crowd, which had paid up to $50 per ticket, sat spellbound by a two-hour display on the stage of the 46th Street Theater.

Among the players were many associated with the Hammerstein career: Helen Hayes, Dorothy Stickney, Mary Martin, Elaine Stritch, Celeste Holm, Barbara Cook, Allyn McLerie among the ladies; Howard Lindsay, Dennis King, Alfred Drake, John Raitt, George Gaynes, Leon Bibb among the men.

Music Roundup
The words they recited were a half hundred of the lyrics for the thousand songs which Hammerstein wrote. There were snatches, too, of his letters and thoughts he recorded in speeches or interviews prior to his death, Aug. 23, 1960.

The first half of the program savored excerpts from his collaborations with Sigmund Romberg, Jerome Kern and Rudolf Friml.

The latter section concentrated on his partnership with Richard Rodgers. The composer himself opened the segment, as pianist for Drake's memory-rousing "Oh What a Beautiful Morning."

In swift succession the melody rush included bits of the team's great hit musicals.

Show-Stoppers
There were no encores, but Miss Holm with "I Can't Say No" from "Oklahoma!" Raitt in "Soiloquy" from "Carousel," and Myron McCormick leading the chorus in "There Is Nothing Like a Dame" from "South Pacific" came near stopping the show.

A medley by Miss Martin from "The Sound of Music" rang down the curtain.

Proceeds of the benefit program are being turned over by Hammerstein's widow to United World Federalists. The organization, in which the lyricist took an active interest, seeks to further peace through world law.

'Arcade and Attica' to Revive Rail Service On 13-Miles of Tracks

ARCADE, N.Y. (AP)—With so many big railroads in the country cutting passenger service, the little Arcade & Attica says it is going to start hauling people again.

To do it, the A&A has bought a 40-year-old steam locomotive and two used coaches. A parlor car that President Grover Cleveland used on his honeymoon trip will be wheeled out of the A&A barns in this western New York village to make a third car.

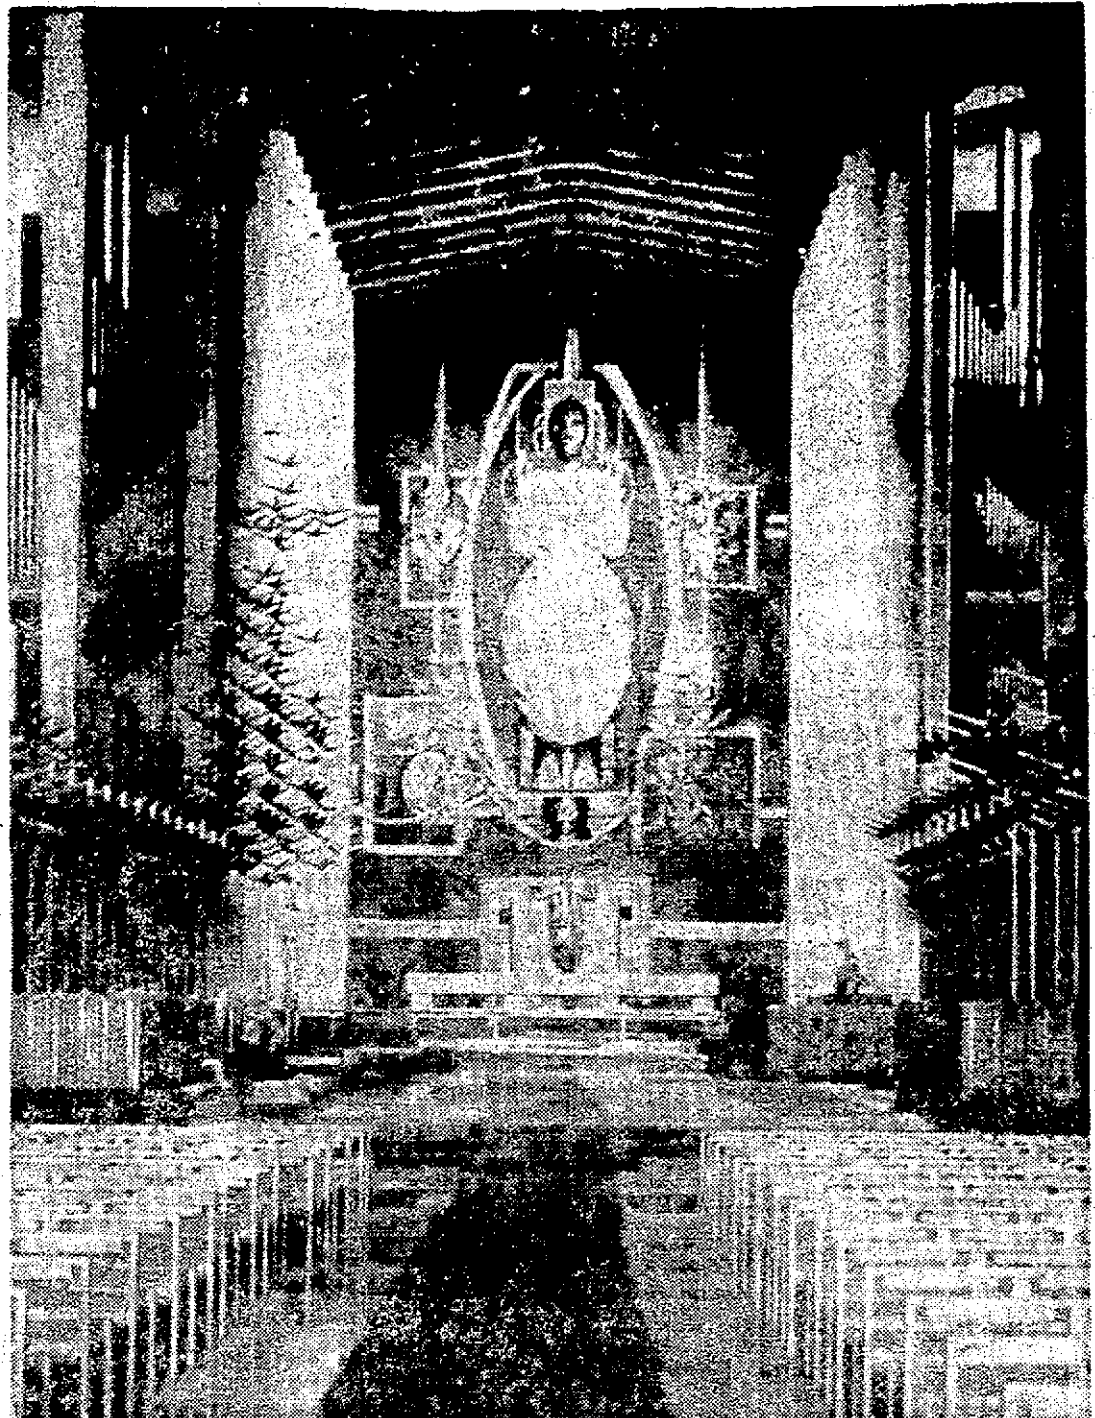

The railroad runs 13 miles between Arcade and North Java, the A&A's other terminal.

Book Back in Library, But It's 43 Years Late

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A book that has been overdue at the public library for 43 years turned up in a book drive Sunday.

Head librarian Clarence Graham said there is no way to tell who borrowed it. At the usual 5-cent daily overdue charge, the borrower would owe $784.75.

"But, of course, we would never charge more than the book was worth," Graham said.

Graham Sutherland's Tapestry, "Christ in Majesty," hangs for the first time behind the altar of the nearly-completed new Anglican Cathedral of Coventry, Warwickshire, England. Tapestry measures 70 feet by 39 feet. It depicts Christ surmounted by a star and surrounded by figures representing a lion, bull, eagle and an angel — symbolizing the four evangelists. Tapestry is said to be largest single piece ever made. It took 14 persons 2½ years to complete.

Bar Patrons Startled

Escaped Lions Cause Commotion in Omaha

OMAHA, Neb. (AP)—"Close the door," shouted the bartender, "there's a lion out there."

And there she was on the hood of Sgt. Bernard Mollner's cruiser, roaring and licking raindrops off the windshield.

She was Carmen, the largest of the pair of circus lions which had escaped from a truck at the edge of the main Omaha business district Saturday night. She had cuffed but not seriously injured a pedestrian.

Blocks Exit
Mollner had trapped her in the entryway to the bar by driving his cruiser onto the sidewalk to block the exit.

Police with riot guns trained on the big cat formed a semi-circle around the entrance. They

Family Documents Important to Veterans
Basic family documents such as birth and marriage certificates should be carefully kept where they are readily available, the Veterans Administration advised veterans and their dependents.

These documents are needed to support claims for veterans' benefits, F. D. Heesacker, Outagamie County Veteran's Service officer explained. Included among these essential records are military discharge papers, death certificates, divorce decrees, and guardianship or child custody evidence. The basic records are needed to support claims for disability or death compensation and pension, veterans burial benefits, and similar claims.

Woman Dies After Auto Accident

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A Milwaukee woman killed in a Shawano County crash was the only reported highway victim in Wisconsin during the weekend. Her death raised the state's traffic toll for the year to 159, compared with 219 on this date a year ago.

Mrs. Clara Curran, 36, of Milwaukee was injured fatally and seven other persons were injured in a two-car collision at a curve on Shawano County Highway D four miles north of Bowler Sunday.

The sheriff's department said the cars collided headon. The injured were taken to Tigerton Hospital, where Mrs. Curran died.

Officers identified the drivers as Michael Waldoval of rural Antigo and Wayne Wintarski of rural Gresham. There were six persons in one car, five in the other.

Dodd Wants Tougher Laws for Juveniles

NEW YORK (AP)—"We must stop handcuffing the police by forcing them to handle all young criminals as if they were merely juvenile delinquents," says Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn.

Addressing the annual Roman Catholic communion breakfast of the Holy Name Society of the city police department Sunday, Dodd said policemen must be given the tools "to make these criminals feel the full weight of restrictive law enforcement."

Lawrence Says Transportation Policy Requires Execution

One Executive or Agency Needed to Oversee Operation

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
WASHINGTON — President Kennedy has just sent to Congress a 7,000-word essay on the need for a transportation policy, and he has made several worth-while recommendations. But, unfortunately, the President has neglected the obvious—the designation of a single executive or agency in the government to follow through and get the job done.

During the Eisenhower administration, it was recommended that a Department of Transportation be added to the cabinet, but for some unexplained reason Mr. Kennedy does not renew this recommendation and leaves the whole subject of co-ordination in the same confused state it has been in for many years.

Mr. Kennedy rightly says that "an efficient and dynamic transportation system is vital to our domestic economic growth, productivity and progress" and that it affects the cost of every commodity consumed or exported. But why is the transportation, especially the railroad industry, in such a bad state today? The President provides one answer as follows:

"Chaotic Patchwork"
"A chaotic patchwork of inconsistent and often obsolete legislation and regulation has evolved from a history of specific actions addressed to specific problems of specific industries at specific times."

"The regulatory commissions are required to make thousands of detailed decisions based on out-of-date standards. The management of various modes of transportation is subjected to excessive, cumbersome, and time-consuming regular supervision that shackles and distorts managerial initiative."

Mr. Kennedy's message is filled with concrete proposals that request Congress to enact laws, for instance, permitting railroads to do away with minimum rates in opening up competitive opportunities as between water carriers and other modes of transportation. He wants control of inter-city passenger rates limited to the fixing of only a maximum rate. He urges that certain excise taxes on transportation be removed and that a three per cent tax be placed on fuel used by the airlines as a "minimal step toward recouping the heavy federal investment in the airways."

Policy Formulation
As for the subject of mergers, this is treated in a very abstract fashion, and it is difficult to tell whether any beneficial results can be expected. About all the President says is that he wants to form "an inter-agency group" which would be directed "to formulate general administrative policies on mergers in each segment of the transportation industry and to assist the Department of Justice in developing a government position on each merger application or presentation before the regulatory agencies."

Mr. Kennedy speaks vaguely of "applying appropriate criteria to the circumstances and conditions of each particular case" involving a merger, and he promises to recommend "more specific guidelines than are now available." This doesn't give much of a hint as to what's coming. What so many men in the business world have said before, some of the people in the transportation business are saying now: "The President talks a lot and puts some sensible ideas in many of his messages, but he doesn't do anything about them."

What is really needed in America is a Department of Transportation whose main function and purpose would be to get the carriers out from under government regulation and to make subsidies unnecessary. A cabinet secretary devoting his whole time to transportation is necessary in order to fight constantly for a system of private initiative. The government should, of course, put ceilings on the top rates to be charged the users but should aim to bring about a gradual reduction in the regulatory power of government over the various types of carriers in the transportation system. For if transportation in America could be rid of most of the governmental meddling, all its branches would certainly prosper and grow more efficient.

Mr. Kennedy's message offers a few rays of hope, but his proposals may not get anywhere because nobody—and that means no executive, no department, no agency—is given the concrete responsibility for putting the high-sounding recommendations into effect. If Congress should agree to eliminate the barriers to efficiency now rooted in existing laws.

European Theaters Impress Visitor

BY MARION DREW
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

In the four days Mrs. Marion McMillen and Mrs. T. M. Gilbert were in Paris they saw Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sawtell several times. The last day they were in Paris they shopped and skipped the theater that night, feeling a little like truants.

The first night in Copenhagen, the group sponsored by ANTA, went to the Royal Ballet to see "Lady of the Sea."

"It was not very good," Mrs. McMillen said frankly. "I have seen the Danish ballet in this country, and they performed better here than they did that night. However, we loved Copenhagen and stayed in a very modern hotel . . . even the towel racks were heated."

"We were taken to the Court theater which is really partly a museum. Hans Christian Andersen acted here. He was simply terrible they say — awkward and with a horrible speaking voice. The director is supposed to have said to him 'There must be a place in the theater for you, but God knows what it is.' However, they are very proud of him now and have several of his original manuscripts."

Private Theater
"We went to a production of 'Diary of a Scoundrel' at the New Theater which is a private theater, as against the Royal Theater."

Senior Tri-Y Clubs Plan Panel Talk

Senior Tri-Y clubs will hear a panel discussion by American Negro and foreign students from Lawrence College Tuesday evening at the YMCA.

Robert Scott, Chicago, will serve as moderator for the panel. Miss Kaffie Pickens, Victor Weaver, Frank Jones, Chicago, Neike Ndiya, Kenya, and James Ajene, Nigeria, will act as panelists.

After the panel discussion of questions submitted by Tri-Y leaders, the club members will take part in smaller discussion groups. Miss Susan Selle, president of the Cho-Cho Tri-Y club, have a luncheon meeting at 1 p.m. Wednesday at the Seymour Union leaders are Misses Patricia Riley, Bonnie Loos, Juntas Srs., Kay Schulz, Carol Metko, Chico Tri-Y, and Gail Jacobi, Cho-Cho Tri-Y.

New Spring Courses Set At YMCA

A special series of short term spring classes for women will begin the week of April 23 at the YMCA. The first of five weekly lessons for beginning tennis players will be at 7 p.m. April 25. Advanced tennis lessons will start at 8 p.m. George Rushlon and George Mills will instruct the course.

Ballroom dancing lessons will begin April 23 for beginners and April 25 for the advanced. The hours will be from 9 to 11 p.m. There will be five weekly sessions. Swimming lessons will be given from 10 to 11 a.m. beginning April 24. A cooperative babysitting service has been arranged. Women who wish to participate may register with the YMCA women's department. Beginners lessons will also begin at 7:30 p.m. April 23 and 25 and advanced lessons at 8:30 p.m. April 23 and 25. The courses will continue for eight weeks.

Golf instruction for beginners will begin at 6:30 April 30. Jack Notebaart will instruct the five week course. A Hiking Club has been organized. Short hikes and guided field trips will be planned by members. Mrs. Ray Montieth will instruct contract bridge classes from 1:15 to 3:15 p.m. starting April 25. The course will continue for eight weeks.

Distress Not Real At Awards

BY DORIS KLEIN

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Don't feel too sorry, mister, for that poor little maiden in distress at tonight's Academy Awards.

Take it from Edith Head, awards costume consultant for the last 10 years: "The gal who loses her petticoat is bound to be some little starlet who didn't lose it accidentally."

Vicki Dougan, the little starlet started the trend to no back, no blush, when she turned up almost all dressed up at the awards a few years ago.

It doesn't happen often enough to make it uninteresting because, as Hollywood's biggest event nears each year, the word is out to "keep it dignified."

Miss Head adds, "Genuine mishaps are very rare."

Take Care of Them
"It's usually the younger, more ambitious actresses who display a little too much epidermis—and we take care of that."

The lady picks a gown for tonight. She swoops into Santa Monica Civic Auditorium, hurries backstage—and catches her heel in her skirt. Or maybe, after all, that high television camera looks too far down her neckline. Or perhaps she has, 'er, lost something.

Edith will have a crash unit lined up backstage to take care of these and other emergencies.

There will be:

Hairstylists with spray to plaster down errant strands of hair.

Dull Diamonds
Costumers with spray to dull the camera-dazzling glitter of diamonds.

Dressmakers with hundreds of different bits of cloth to fill in plunging necklines.

Other assistants with everything from extra eyelashes to extra falsies.

Missing from the backstage ranks of hairdressers will be Sidney Guilaroff, MGM stylist, who is coiffing Natalie Wood, Geraldine Page, Debbie Reynolds, Cyd Charisse and Marilyn Monroe earlier today.

"Once I do their hair, I'm finished," says Guilaroff.

Baptist Circles Tell Schedule

Circles of the Woman's Missionary Society of First Baptist Church will meet Tuesday. The Evalena Circle, led by Mrs. Florence Fiske, will meet at 1:30 at the home of Mrs. H. E. Weinberger, 1520 W. Franklin St. Mrs. I. S. Kimball, 117 N. Mason St., leader of the Lucy F. Wiatt Circle, will entertain circle members at 7:30 p.m. at her home.

The Elsie Pettet Circle, under the leadership of Mrs. Kenneth Maynard, will meet at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Albert Glassnap, 139 Chain Drive. The Maldonado Circle, led by Mrs. Lee Johnson, will meet at 8 p.m. Mrs. Laverne Root, route 2, Menasha, will be hostess.

Circle organization for the next season will be arranged at the April 17 meeting.

Socialite-Actress Dina Merrill, often called one of the world's best dressed women, models the gown she will wear at Hollywood's Academy Award 'Oscar' show tonight. The gown is emerald green Italian shantung with a belled skirt. The blue gray satin bodice has a bateau neckline and the peplum is encrusted with jewels. Miss Merrill will wear a matching stole with the outfit.

Institute Reception Held at Riverview

Dean and Mrs. Roy P. Whitney held their annual reception for Institute of Paper Chemistry faculty and students Friday evening in the River Room of Riverview Country Club. More than 200 Institute associates and their wives attended the 8 to 10 p.m. party.

Mrs. Arild J. Miller had charge of serving refreshments. Faculty wives who assisted were Mmes. Harry D. Wilder, Jack Weiner, Howard S. Gardner, M. A. Buchanan, Donald C. Johnson, Martin C. Mathes, Donald W. Theisen and Dean W. Einspahr.

Student wives who aided the hostess were Mmes. Philip H. Emery Jr., Richard W. Abrams, Earl W. Malcolm, Joseph V. Koleske, Richard J. Ross, L. Kirkland Semke, Richard G. Barker and William C. Blesner.

Women Plan Program on Physical Fitness

The women of St. Joseph Church who have been holding a physical fitness class Tuesday evening at St. Joseph School have planned a public program Tuesday evening.

John Bartman, physical education director of the Green Bay YMCA, will present a talk on "Health through Physical Fitness" and will demonstrate exercises. Mr. Bartman has a morning TV program.

Tickets for the 7:45 program will be available at the door.

Three Links Club Plans Luncheon, Business Meeting

Mrs. Burton Clark, 1509 N. Gilett St., will entertain members of the Rebekah Three Links Club at a 1 p.m. luncheon Wednesday. Mrs. Cordell Pruett and Miss Anna Brockman will be co-hostesses.

A brief business meeting and a social hour are planned.

Chaminade Receives Audience Acclaim

BY JEAN OTTO

Post-Crescent Women's Editor

The audience that braved the April rain Sunday evening to hear Chaminade Chorus' 20th Annual Spring Concert was suitably rewarded. The program was splendid. Chaminade, in its opening number at Lawrence Memorial Chapel, left no doubt as to its ability and preparation. The women were in fine voice and the audience was receptive and appreciative.

Under the skilled direction of Harry Knox, the impressive and powerful opening rendition, "Great and Marvelous Are Thy Works" by A. R. Gaul gave way easily to the tender and loving "The Cherubic Hymn" by Gretchaninoff. Throughout the chorus' first group of religious songs, the singers demonstrated their ease at blending their voices into a smooth mastery of harmony. "Let My People Go" was warm and moving with the sadness and pathos that are part of its mood.

Accomplished Young Pianist

Miss Dianne Di Dio, young Milwaukee pianist who performed as guest artist, proved herself an accomplished musician. The young student at the University of Wisconsin, Milwaukee, and 1961 winner of the Milwaukee Music Teachers Association, Inc., Debut award, presented an ambitious program of Chopin, Morpou, Tcherenpin and Bartok. This talented artist interpreted the music with great sensitivity and her phrasing and timing were almost flawless. Miss Di Dio performs with such excellence it is difficult to believe her visually handicapped. She is not handicapped at the piano. Her mind unerringly directs her fingers and she and her instrument become one. She is that rare performer who has a keen awareness of the feeling of music and the technical skill to make it come alive for her audience.

Chaminade's folk songs were delightful. Doing what they were meant to do, these selections conjured up mental pictures of people in the traditional songs and dances of their native lands. The tunes varied from the vivacious Mexican dance, "Chiapanecas" to the hauntingly lovely "The Silver Ring" by Cecil Chaminade, for whom the chorus was named.

Show Tunes Enjoyed

Show tunes are audience favorites, and Chaminade did them well. "So in Love" from "Kiss Me, Kate," "Getting to Know You" from "The King and I" and "Climb Every Mountain" from "Sound of Music" left the audience smiling and perhaps a bit lighter-hearted than before. They returned the chorus to the stage for encores, "Can't You Dance the Polka" and "Goodnight," a Bavarian folk song.

Mrs. Clarence Richter is the Chaminade Chorus' very able accompanist. She has been with the chorus since its organization. Other charter members who performed Sunday evening were Miss Dorothy Schenck, Miss Evelyn Reitz and Mrs. Melvin Knoke. Miss Reitz and Mrs. Knoke are also past presidents. Members of The MacDowell Male Chorus ushered.

Why Women Live Longer

Why women live longer than men:

One of Buffalo's heavy snowstorms choked traffic on the State Thruway here recently, leaving workbound motorists fuming. But in a stalled pink sedan, an attractive young woman at the wheel took out a case and set to work, obviously enjoying the luxury of an unhurried manicure.

Ladies Aid Will Help Farm Family

FREMONT — The Ladies Aid of the St. Paul Lutheran Church will assist with the purchase of a new bus and laundry for the Bethesda Home at Watertown. A contribution of $5 was made to the cancer fund drive.

An April 25 bake sale will be sponsored at the Bauer Furniture Store with Mrs. Verna Smith and Mrs. Lester Koepf in charge.

The family of a rural Fremont farmer, who has been hospitalized in Madison for eye surgery for about three weeks, will be given assistance through the committee of Mrs. Walter Warnke and Mrs. Emil Niemuth.

Worcester Art Center on the Lawrence College Campus was the setting for Chaminade Chorus' post-concert reception Sunday evening. Above, Mrs. Milton Schreiner Jr., reception chairman; Miss Dianne Di Dio, Milwaukee pianist and guest artist; Harry Knox, conductor, and Mrs. Clarence Richter, accompanist, discuss the successful 20th annual concert. At left, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Gene Porter visit during the social hour held for members of the audience and friends of chorus members. Mrs. Smith is Chaminade president.

Your Problems

Inefficient Secretary With High Salary Is No Dumb Cluck

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: This is an urgent cry for help. Last October the daughter of a dear friend applied to me for a secretarial job. Linda had graduated from high school and then enrolled in a business college.

Landers

I've known this girl since she was a child and felt obliged to give her a chance. Well, here is the situation:

Linda has a way of spelling which is unique. Here are some examples: congratulate, strictly, farmacy, constitushun, loonatik, excape and inclosed. When she addressed a letter to Milwaukee, Westconsin I decided to write to you.

Linda is a nice person and tries hard, but in addition to her lack of skills she arrives late (from 20 to 30 minutes) about three days every week. Her absentee record is the worst in the office. She has not worked a single Monday in nine weeks. I pay this dumb cluck $310 a month.

What can I do in view of the close relationship?—Dutch Uncle Dear Uncle: A girl who puts "Milwaukee" in Westconsin, arrives late consistently, has a poor work record and gets paid $310 a month is no dumb cluck. Her boss, however, must be excessively stoopid.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Two years ago I inherited a large home. It was slightly run down but conveniently located to my place of business. I talked my wife into selling our newly built home—at a profit. She has been mad at me ever since. My wife used to do a lot of extra little things in the other house but now she says she has to work like a dray horse just keeping this one clean. I can't see why a few more rooms would make that much difference.

Since October my wife has been having severe headaches. She claims the doctor told her the headaches are from tension and anxiety. I asked her what she is tense about and she says, "I hate this house."

Since it's all in her head I wish you'd straighten her out by telling her to change her thinking. Maybe this house is harder to keep clean but it saves me 20 minutes to and from work every day. Thanks.—Jim

Dear Jim: If your wife is having severe anxiety symptoms because she hates the house she's living in, I can tell you right now it won't help to tell her to "change her thinking."

Get rid of the old barn and buy a house your wife can enjoy. Forty minutes traveling time per day is a small sacrifice to make for the sake of the mental health of the woman you married.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Our wedding date has been set for June. We are having serious trouble over the best man. My fiancé (I will call him Jed) has asked a friend of his whom I hate. This so-called friend has a reputation for being a loud-mouth and a bore. He tried to break us up but failed.

I want Jed to uninvite Mr. Loud-mouth. He refuses on the grounds that the guy was so thrilled with the honor he had already told half the town. I say Jed should have discussed this with me before he asked the guy. After all, my folks are paying for the wedding and I should have something to say about who is in the act.

If I made a big fuss over this I could win. Do you think I should?—Bristles

Dear Bristles: Win what? The title of "Most Miserable Witch Of The Bridal Season?"

The groom has almost nothing to say about the wedding except who shall be his best man. Don't put him in the humiliating spot of uninviting the guy. Be gracious—and silent—if it kills you.

To learn the difference between a marriage that "settles down" and one that "gets dull," send for Ann Landers' booklet, "What To Expect From Marriage," enclosing with your request 20 cents in

Wheat Motif Used in Bridal Decorations

CLEARWATER, Kan. (AP)—When Cheryl Kay Heitman, 18, and James O. Kunkel, 27, were married Sunday the bride wore a veil and white tiara made of wheat grains and carried a wheat bouquet.

The matron of honor and bridesmaids wore wheat corsages. The groomsmen and ring bearer wore wheat boutonnieres, and the flower girl carried a basket decorated with wheat sprigs.

Wheat sprays and bouquets decorated the church.

The wedding was attended by officers of the Kansas Wheat Commission and wheat industry officials. As they dashed from the church the newlyweds were showered with grains of wheat.

At a reception afterward the 350 guests were served delicacies made of wheat.

Almost needless to say, the bride's father is a wheat farmer. The groom works for a chemical company.

Today's Etiquette

BY LOUISE DAVIS

Our first cousin (our fathers are brothers) asked us three sisters to serve punch at her wedding reception.

Following the ceremony her mother told us to begin making the punch. Like good girls we went to the church kitchen to prepare it, not knowing that this was our duty and not knowing the ingredients or recipe. When all was finished, I brazenly took a plate and sat with the guests, while the other two, being a bit piqued, decided to remain in the kitchen. Later, the custodian who is usually paid by the bride's parents to clean up, explained the mysteries of the church kitchen. So we obligingly washed dishes. Our first "delight" now makes us feel like Cinderellas. Where was the fault?

Louise Davis Answers: The main fault was with the mother who was a poor manager. She should have given you three Cinderellas specific instructions by spelling them out. She should have consulted long in advance with the custodian as to the church's kitchen rules. It is my guess that she doesn't know to this day that her three nieces were obliged to be kitchen slaves instead of enjoying as much of the reception pleasures as possible. Just lading the punch would have been an honor and it would have been enjoyable with three of you taking turns. But to be expected to spend all or most of your time in the kitchen is unthinkable.

Golf Dress Tips

An easy home-job, for any seamstress, is to replace the side stitches in the cuffs of your golf slacks with snap-fasteners. After a round, or even a walk in the country, just turn down the cuffs and brush out all the grass twigs etc. . . . If you do not own regular driving gloves wear rough leather ones when behind the wheel. Smooth slippery leathers can be a hazard.

Linda is a nice person and tries hard, but in addition to her lack of skills she arrives late (from 20 to 30 minutes) about three days

Peeking Not Necessary

It isn't always safe to make the right play. Your opponents may threaten to put blinkers on you.

er drew two rounds of trumps, cashed the king of spades and led a low spade toward his hand.

When East quite properly played a low spade, South finessed with the jack of spades.

West pushed his chair back in a northwesterly direction and clutched his cards closer to his chest as he discarded a club. "I see you have a new pair of glasses," West remarked acidly.

"I didn't peek," South protested. "I simply made the right play."

South continued by taking the ace of spades and ruffing out his last two spades with dummy's remaining trumps. He eventually had to give up two club tricks, but the contract was safe.

Proves His Case

"I couldn't lose the hand once I took the spade finesse," South asserted. "If the finesse lost, I could discard three clubs from dummy on the rest of the spades. I might lose a spade trick, but I'd lose only one club."

He was quite right. The spade finesse assured the contract? If he had played the ace of spades he'd have gone down. Dummy would have only two trumps, not enough to take care of South's three spades. South would lose a diamond, a spade and two clubs.

Daily Question

Partner opens with one spade, and the next player doubles. You hold: S Q 8 7 3 H 7 2 D A 8 7 3 C J 10. What do you say?

Answer: Bid three spades. This shows good trumps but only modest high-card values, much like a normal raise to two spades.

Working Mother Not Bad for Child

Is working mom bad for a child? A recent Iowa State University study of youngsters in Cedar Rapids schools indicates the answer is no.

According to sociologist Lee Burchinal, maternal employment during given periods of a child's life seems to have no bearing on his later personality, social and school developments. The kind of substitute care a mother provides, and how she reacts to her children appear more important than her working.

Discussing Plans for the annual tea for high school senior girls planning to enter college are discussed by Fox Valley Panhellenic Council president Mrs. W. C. Stach, Mrs. Alton Swanson, Appleton, invitations chairman and Mrs. Bruce Robertson, Neenah, secretary and program chairman. The tea will be held April 29 at the Lawrence College Memorial Union. A panel discussion on rushing procedure and a style show will be presented.

Our Children Inconsistency Only Confuses Children

BY ANGELO PATRI

"My problem is this: my son is almost five and is very unimindful of anything he is told to do. Maybe the reason he doesn't mind is that I am not consistent. I laugh at one thing one day and scold about it the next. I have a baby five months old and another boy of three. Is my trouble inconsistency?"

"Also, have you any booklets on birth control? I don't want any more children. I am not very well and sort of modest so I don't speak to my doctor about this. I was brought up not even to take a dress off in front of other girls. I am only 22 years old and I would live long but if I don't get some kind of birth control, I don't think I will."

I have no literature on birth control. What you need is the personal assistance of your family physician. Why should you be shy about asking him? Just remember that to the doctor you are just another case, another bit of material in his laboratory. He would have no more feeling in advising you about birth control than he would have in setting about curing a case of measles.

He is interested in your medical problem to such an extent that he does not see you are a woman. There is no sex in a doctor's life. You had his attention when your children were born and that certainly should relieve you of all feeling of embarrassment. I think you should ask his advice.

Three children under five years of age would seem to me to be a very big load. You are entitled to the physician's help and I am sure you will get it if you ask for it. Don't attempt to help yourself. That would be dangerous — too dangerous. You are perfectly safe with your physician.

Now as to your unimindful child. One thing is really necessary. You must be consistent. If you laugh at disobedience one day and scold the same offense the next day, your five-year-old will be confused. Therefore, select the essential things, list those that are really important and then be consistent in seeing them through. Schedule your day so that you and the children are well regulated.

Have a stated time for rising, baths, toilet duties, meals, play, rest, prayers, bedtime. These are important things that must be done regularly if they are to be effective. You will find that a well-planned routine day avoids a great deal of wasted time and energy.

Try to give the children as few orders as possible but see that those you must give are carried through. Take each day as it comes, each job that must be done, calmly, with confidence and with a feeling of joy. You are young. A long life awaits you.

like the treatment, but they are seldom taken back. This should be interesting to some people who would like to see subsidized theater in this country. I don't believe real actors would like this. Incidentally, all of the operas are sung in Danish.

Saw "Three Sisters"

"The following night we saw Chekhov's 'Three Sisters.' I don't know why but it was played in front of the curtain on the apron. It was well acted and we knew the play well so the language barrier was not too much of a handicap. It was said that the middle sister over-acted, but we enjoyed it."

"After the theater, we dined at the American Embassy. Actors of the Royal Theater weren't allowed to come, but actors from the private theater were there and many of the distinguished critics. The Danes are handsome and interesting and most of them spoke English. Our ambassador, William McCormick Blair, was there and was very nice. We had just seen the church in which he was married in Kronenberg Castle and we spoke to him about that.

"We were disappointed in the American Embassy. It is a modern, unattractive building, right next to the very handsome Russian Embassy."

Leave For London

The next day the group left by air for London, arriving late enough to "fall into bed exhausted." The next day, Sunday, was a free day. Mrs. McMillen and Mrs. Gilbert had lunch at Claridges and rented a car but "we didn't get out at once." Because it was Sunday the market places were empty and they could see the actual setting of "My Fair Lady."

The group gave a luncheon Monday at the Criterion Restaurant for some of the English theater people, including Margaret Webster, Margaret Rawlings and Patricia Jessell, who played the lead in the United States in "Witness for the Prosecution." The British were thrilled over John Glenn's space orbit and congratulated the Americans. The ANTA group attended tea and a talk by George Divine, one of the leaders of Britain's "angry young men" at the American Embassy Monday afternoon.

Need Writers, Need Theatres

"He compared English and American theater," Mrs. McMillen said. He told us that the United States needs someone to produce plays by new writers. The English accept Arthur Miller, but they do not appreciate William Inge and Tennessee Williams. He told us that the English theater is emerging into a new era with young writers."

"The next day we saw Albert Finney in 'Luther,' a very moving play by John Osborne. They expect to bring the play here next year."

"We enjoyed 'Richard the Third' at the Old Vic because we had met the stars, Paul Daneman and Patricia Jessell at the embassy. It is well done, but it doesn't have the magic Shakespeare sometimes has. The sets and costumes were not particularly impressive."

English Theaters Cold

"One thing about English theaters that is simply dreadful is the cold. The doors are left open and when the fire curtain goes up there is a draft from backstage that practically blows you out of your seat. We all wore our coats to all the plays and were simply freezing, anyway. I don't believe we were warm all the time we were in England or Ireland. The ladies' rooms are icy and we sounded like a group of whooping cranes in the theater. We all had colds and fearful bronchial coughs. An interesting thing is that at matinees, which begin at 4:30 p.m., tea is served you in your seat during intermission. You pay for all play bills even though it is only the cost of characters."

"The most popular play in England now is 'Oliver,' which will be brought here. There is one marvelous set, but a lot of the music and dancing will have to be changed. English musicals don't move like ours and aren't nearly as good."

Mrs. Lester Schultz, Appleton, Mrs. Harland Carl, Neenah, and Mrs. Richard Uehling, Appleton, representing Pi Beta Phi, have charge of name tags.

Mrs. Bruce Robertson and Mrs. Dale Cansler, Neenah, will plan the program. They represent the Delta Gamma Alumnae Chapter.

Princess Sophie of Greece and Crown Prince Don Juan Carlos of Spain walked in Lausanne, Switzerland, at the time of their engagement in September. The princess and other members of the royal family, including her father, King Paul, have come under attack by opposing political parties in Greece. Even the princess' proposed dowry has been a source of irritation in Greek politics.

Princess' Dowry Causes Controversy in Greece

BY EUGENE LEVIN

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—Pretty, blue-eyed Princess Sophie will be married May 14 to the crown prince who some day may rule Spain, Don Juan Carlos.

"In the midst of the preparations, the Greek royal family is coming under more public criticism than at any time since King Paul assumed the throne 15 years ago."

The king is a constitutional monarch theoretically above politics. But opponents of Premier Constantine Caramanlis attack the crown along with the government.

Election Charges Made

The two big opposition parties—the anti-Communist Center Union, led by George Papandreou, and the pro-Communist Pame—charged coercion was used to give Caramanlis his victory.

Election and legal authorities threw out the charges. Under the constitution, the opposition parties plan to abstain on every government measure put before Parliament.

King Paul, who is 60, found himself in the middle of the squabble when Papandreou asked him to order Caramanlis to resign. The king refused to act, in effect accepting the verdict of election officials. Papandreou and the opposition have been sniping at the monarch ever since.

The attack on royalty has included the royal bride-to-be, King Paul's 23-year-old daughter. Caramanlis wanted a 300,000 dowry. Parliament, with the premier's party holding a big majority of seats, approved.

$60 A Month Wage

The Communist-oriented Pame said Greece was too poor to provide such a dowry. Although 1961 was a record economic year, the average wage of a Greek workingman remained low, less than $60 a month.

Papandreou's party said Princess Sophie would lower herself by marrying with a dowry.

There was no sign the royal family would turn down Sophie's $300,000. In Greek villages, a girl without a dowry is likely to remain without a husband, and the royal family has recognized this fact of Greek life.

The Ailing House Bleach Aids Cleaning of Marble Box

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN

Q: I have a white marble box which is used as a cigarette humidor. It has developed several dark discolored areas. Can these be bleached out safely?

A: Yes, usually. Try bleaching with a weak solution of oxalic acid (poison), using ½ ounce in 1 pint of water. Brush or wipe the solution on, allowing to remain 1-2 minutes, then rinsing off thoroughly with clear water and wiping dry with a soft cloth. Repeat treatment, if necessary.

Cleaning Calfskin

Q: My son had a brown and white calfskin on his bedroom wall for quite a while. It's only been vacuumed periodically and has developed a dingy look. Is there any way I can clean it at home?

A: Try the following method, usually successful with fur: Rub the calfskin thickly with hot bran, being careful it isn't hot enough to scorch the fur. Allow to remain several hours, then brush out and beat lightly. Pure corn meal can be used instead of the bran.

Fuzz on Table Top

Q: The protective pad we use for our dining table has sort of a fuzz-felt back to it. In several small spots this fuzz has stuck to the table top. How can I remove this? The table is walnut with a varnish finish.

A: Try washing the table top with thick suds of a mild soap, removing the suds with clean, damp cloths and then wiping dry. If fuzz still adheres, try rubbing lightly with "0000" steel wool and thick suds, following preceding technique. Do all rubbing and wiping with the grain of the wood. If these treatments unsuccessful, only remedy is to have table top completely refinished with quick-drying synthetic resin varnish not affected by hot dishes, water, etc.

Removing Tree Stump and Roots

Q: We had all the wallpaper removed and the rooms are to be repainted. The floors are to be sanded and finished. Some advise painting the rooms first and then finishing the floors; others advise the exact opposite. What do you advise?

A: The usual professional procedure is to do ceilings first, then the walls and woodwork, finishing with the floors.

Deluge of Fan Mail Brings Back TV Series

James Whitmore to Return April 19 As Lawyer Lead in 'Law and Mr. Jones'

BY BOB THOMAS HOLLYWOOD (AP) — You might call it the miracle of Mr. Jones. He's a feisty little guy who refuses to die. As portrayed by James Whitmore, he was an attorney with faults as well as fine points. Strangely—for television, he sometimes lost cases. The show was called "The Law and Mr. Jones" and it got a good ride on ABC a season ago. Then—But let's have Whitmore tell the story: "We thought we were doing pretty well. The ratings were very good, and the critical response was excellent. Then suddenly we were dropped. "The first word we had of it came from Bert Resnick of the Long Beach, Calif., Press-Telegram. He had received the ABC schedule for next season, and we weren't on it. Bert wrote a column about the show being canceled, and he got 400 letters in response. "The pattern followed elsewhere. We got calls from other columnists who took up the battle and helped stir up protest. "Flood of Letters "Between ABC, the sponsors, the FCC and ourselves, there were 400,000 letters protesting the dropping of 'The Law and Mr. Jones.' I don't think there has been anything like it. "Why did the show evoke such loyalty? "People seemed to like it. The show got to them; it was human, it had humor as well as drama, and it had a moral. "Whitmore admitted he harbored no hopes that "The Law and Mr. Jones" would win a re-trial. The death sentence is almost invariably final in television. Occasionally a series has been chopped off one network and has landed on another the following season. But for a series to lapse for a season and then revive—it's little short of miraculous. "New Worry. "We can thank the newspaper writers for doing it," said the actor. For that reason, he is worried about the show that will signal Mr. Jones' return on April 19. It concerns the difficulty of getting an unbiased trial on a case that has been highly publicized in the press. "Gee, I hope the newspaper people won't think we're thanking them by giving newspapers a slap in the face," he remarked.

Woman Tortured by Agonizing ITCH

"I nearly itched to death 7 1/2 years. Then I found a new wonder cream. Now I'm happy," writes Mrs. P. Ramsey of L.A., Calif. Here's blessed relief from tortures of vaginal itch, sexual itch, chafing, rash and eczema with an amazing new scientific formula called LANACANE. This fast-acting medicated cream kills harmful bacteria germs while it soothes raw, irritated and inflamed tissue. Stops scratching—so speeds healing. Don't suffer! Get LANACANE at drugists.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery. In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations. Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place. And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of many months! In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing. All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body. This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H®. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters.

Edie Adams' Virtuoso Skill Aired

BY TV SCOUT 9-9:30 (Channel 11) — Although the Oscar show (see below) will grab off the headlines, here's Edie's superior entertainment, and there's a certain sentimental value in the return to action of Edie Adams. The beautiful blonde here gives what her producer, David Oppenheim, calls "a virtuoso performance." Dick Shawn has a comedy spot and Andre Previn plays a bit of piano, but basically this is Edie and a fantastic display of talent. 6:30-7:30 (Channel 11) — The Cheyenne Show, again starring Ty Hardin as Bronco, has a somber, off-beat kind of story to tell this week. It's a story of Civil War passions in California, told in flashback form. During the late war, Bronco was an undercover Confederate agent and some people hold him responsible for the death of a town. 6:30 - 7:30 (Channel 4 - 5) — Friendship 7 is a condensation of the official films of Col. John Glenn's space cruise, with Glenn on at the beginning and end of the show. The result is a show which will probably make you agree with producer Chet Hagan, who calls it "the most exciting thing I've ever seen." (Color) 7-7:30 (Channel 2) — For a change, it's Pete (Harry Morgan) who carries the bulk of the comedy ball on Pete and Gladys. This one is just right for those who think the pinnacle of comedy is seeing a man in a woman's dress. 8-9 (Channel 4-5) — 87th Precinct neatly laces two stories together with only the fact of an outrageous coincidence marring the plot structure. A small boy becomes a good friend of one of the detectives (Gregory Walcott), just at the time the precinct is assigned to protect a visiting foreign dignitary. And guess who is ordered to assassinate the man—the boy's father, that's who. 8:30 - 9 (Channel 2) — Don Knotts, as deputy Barney Fife, walks away with the fun on The Andy Griffith Show again. He callously intrudes on Andy's dates with Sue Ann Langdon — bringing along a date, playing his bongos, etc.—and then when Andy suggests he leave them alone, he jumps to a matrimonial conclusion. 9:30 - conclusion (Channel 11) — The 34th Annual Oscar Awards

'Rebecca' Ends 'Theatre 62'

Drama Excellent, But Time Too Short To Do It Justice

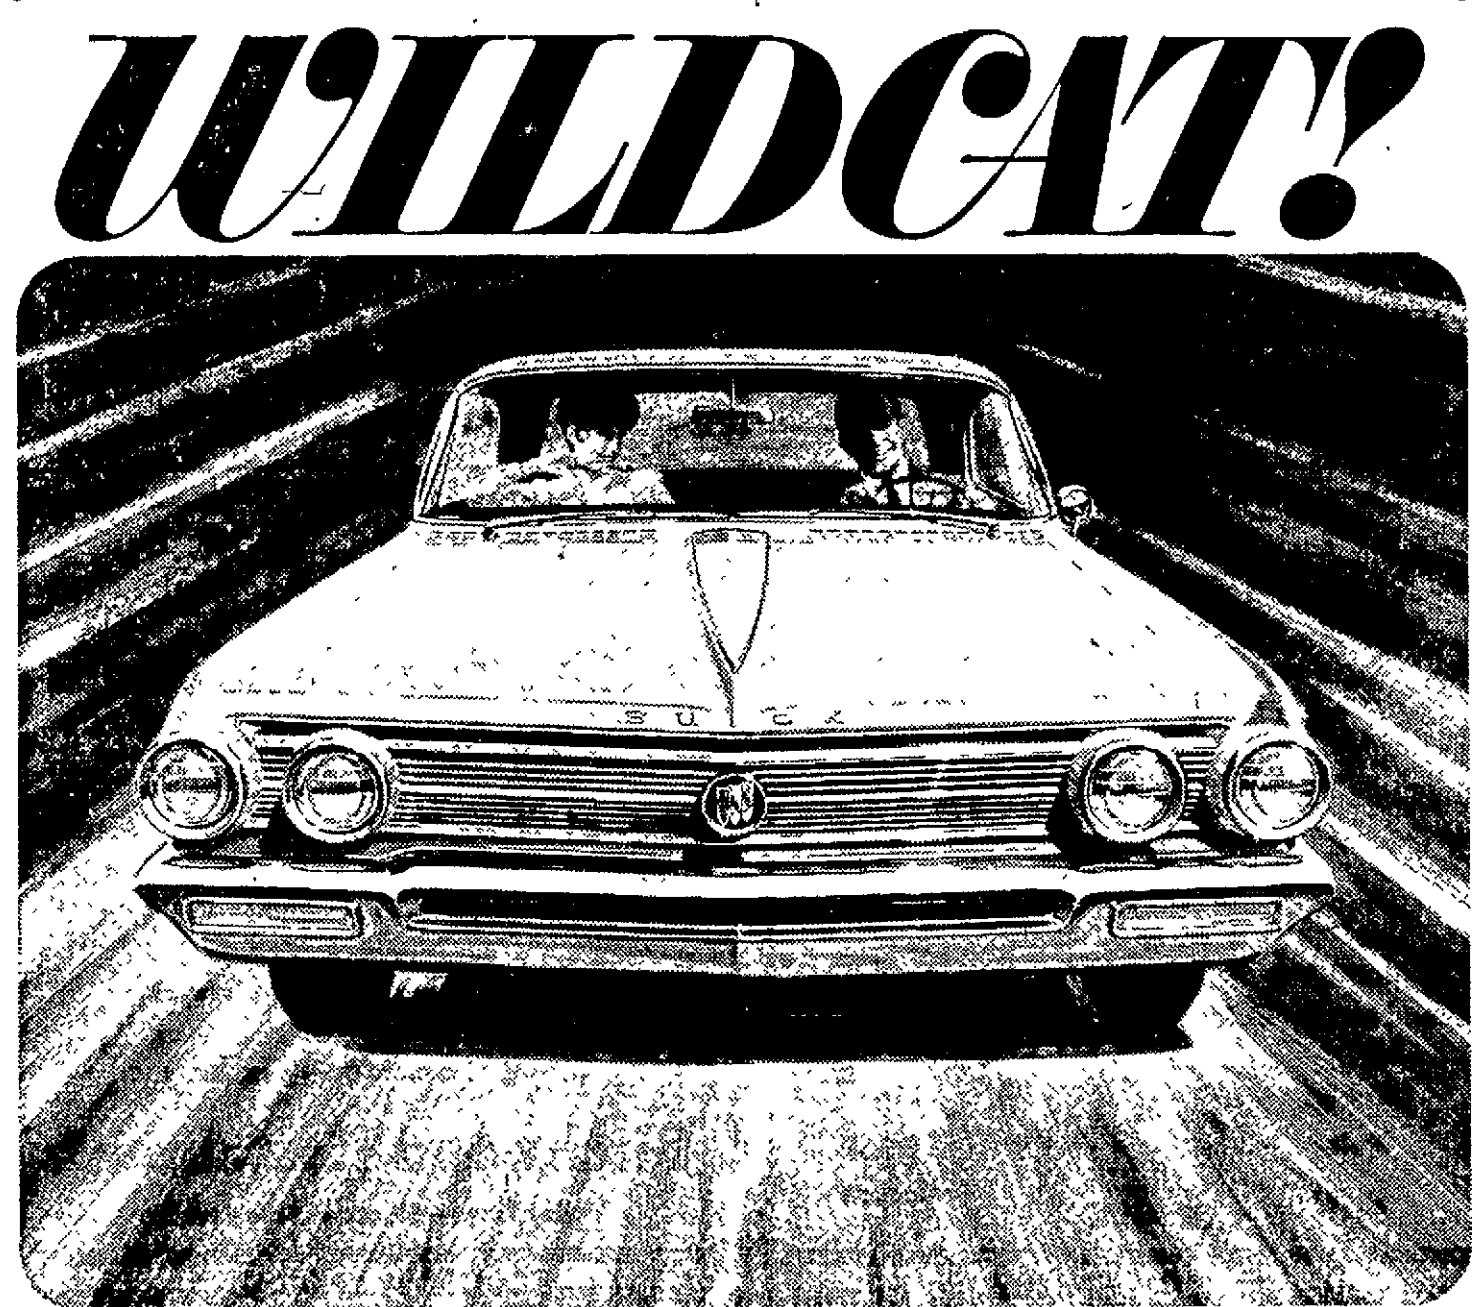

BY CYNTHIA LOWRY NEW YORK (AP)—Daphne du Maurier's durable "Rebecca" wound up NBC's "Theatre 62" dramatic series for the season, with considerable style Sunday night. James Mason, looking like Ernest Hemingway in his pre-beard days, was a remote and anguished Maxim de Winter. Joan Hackett, in frumpish clothes, was shy and appealing as the second Mrs. de Winter. Nina Foch was believable as grim, fanatic Mrs. Danvers. The settings were lovely. The mood was perfect. The adaptors hewed close to the original story. But lacking was one element—oh, such an important element—and that was time. There just wasn't enough time in those 50-odd minutes of live drama to do more than sprint through the story, no time to develop and explore the characters of the principals. For those of us

Brown County Opposes Outagamie Port Airspace

Will Fight Federal Okay Because It Anticipates Instrument Traffic Conflict

Post-Crescent News Service

GREEN BAY — The Brown county board of supervisors airport committee voted unanimously today to oppose any federal approval of airspace for the proposed new Outagamie County airport on the ground it would conflict with traffic at Austin Straubel field.

The committee instructed Robert Smith, airport manager, to outline Brown County's objections in a letter to the federal aviation agency. The action was in response to a routine FAA notice asking opinions on the new airport from the "airspace utilization standpoint."

The FAA's Kansas City regional office asked for the comments by April 19.

Point Out Locations
The committee's action will point out that the new airport will be only 25 miles south of Straubel field and in line with the airport's northeast-southwest runway, the one in which an instrument landing system was installed last summer by FAA.

The outer marker for the ILS runway is six miles from the southwest end of the runway, 19 miles from the proposed new airport. The outer marker is a radio transmitter which sends signals to airplanes making instrument approaches to guide them on their glide path to the end of the runway and to furnish horizontal directions to the runway.

Instrument System
The FAA notice is a preliminary act before making a decision on granting airspace to the new Outagamie airport or before deciding whether it will receive only clearance for visual-approach traffic or eventual instrument landing certification.

The FAA description of the proposed airport said a 7,000-foot southeast-northwest runway was proposed eventually for an instrument landing system.

The committee today approved three leases for space at Austin Straubel Field, including an installation which was reported to be the first in the nation.

Corporation Counsel, Francis Eyrard was told to prepare a lease with Smalltel Inc., Chicago, for ground space north of the terminal where eight private waiting rooms would be erected for passengers. The firm would have a rental desk in the terminal lobby.

The county will receive 10 percent of the gross revenue. The firm will pay all maintenance and utility costs.

Other Leases
The committee approved a lease with the air force for 595 square feet of office space in the airport garage for $1,680 a year to be used by the Green Bay area air force reserve recovery squadron.

The third lease is with the FAA to pay maintenance costs of $2,700 a year for space in the control tower. The tower will start operations May 15.

Government 'Cons' Highway Offices, Supervisor Says

Eugene Kloes Backs Al C. Fischer On Hiring Private Contractors

County highway departments are "conned" by the federal government into building more roads, Appleton Fourth Ward supervisor Eugene Kloes, charged today.

Kloes said the federal government "baits" county highway departments to continue projects with a promise of matching funds. Yet in many cases, Kloes claimed, the federal government's "matching fund" comes nowhere close to the actual cost to the county.

Kloes supported a request that Outagamie County highway construction projects be turned over to private contractors. The request was debated during a high-way committee meeting at the courthouse. Talks are continuing this afternoon.

Kloes said private contractors could not be fooled into taking federal contracts as easily as the government could persuade county departments. Kloes said that most private contractors "know pretty well what the actual cost of a project is going to be before it is started."

Appleton's 15th Ward supervisor, Al C. Fischer, charged that estimates given the county on many construction projects were "mythical figures, based on a premise that everything is going to be perfect."

It is on these bids that county highway departments program, and in most cases, it is these estimates which the federal government uses to supply matching funds. Fischer said the estimates fell "far short" of the actual cost.

Save $700,000
Fischer said the county could save almost $700,000 a year by using private contractors on road construction projects.

Fischer maintains the county could eliminate half of a $2 million equipment inventory and at least half of a $550,000 payroll. Fischer also maintained it would be feasible to privately contract snow removal in Outagamie County in the future.

Bovina Supervisor Ervin Conradt said Fischer was introducing the private contractor suggestion for county board consideration at the wrong time. He said private contracts would interrupt 1962 road building programs.

Price figures on a County Trunk A project showed an estimate of $127,217 as compared to an actual cost of $242,601, Fischer said.

A private contractor would charge $175,345 for the same project, a study shows, and the estimated price would be firm, Fischer claimed.

Foremost Sued For $6 Million In Land Sale
Foremost Dairies, Inc., four affiliated concerns and their officers and directors were named as defendants in a suit seeking up to $6 million in damages for a bankrupt company once controlled by Alexander Guterman, former financier currently serving a prison term.

The suit was filed in U.S. district court in Jacksonville, Fla., by attorneys for Eugene R. Reynolds, bankruptcy trustee for Shawano Development Corp., the bankrupt concern.

The suit charges that Shawano paid Foremost several times the real value for 1,720 acres of Florida land Shawano purchased from Foremost in 1954. The transaction was arranged by Guterman, who "had personal interest adverse to and in conflict with Shawano's interest and violated his duties and obligations to Shawano," the complaint contends. Guterman wasn't named as a defendant, however.

A Foremost Dairies spokesman said in San Francisco, the company's headquarters, the company has not received copies of the complaint and will have no comment until it is officially notified. Foremost operates a plant in Appleton. Western Condensing Co. now is part of Foremost's industrial division.

Sentenced in 1960
Guterman was sentenced to a Federal prison term in 1960 for conspiring to withhold reports from the Securities and Exchange Commission. In that year he was also sentenced to a separate term for acting illegally as an agent for a foreign government.

Florida Police Recover Body of Lumber Executive
The body of Claude Johnson, 57, Menominee, Mich., well-known lumber firm executive, was found about 2 p.m. Saturday by the Florida state patrol.

Johnson reportedly fell off his 82-foot pleasure boat near Fort Lauderdale, Fla. Thursday morning. He and his wife had planned to return to Menominee Thursday after spending the past month and a half in Florida.

Johnson was born Feb. 25, 1905 in Marinette. He was employed for 20 years by the Marinette County traffic department before joining the J. W. Wells Lumber Co. of Menominee as a buyer in 1946.

Survivors are his wife, the former Helene Henes of Appleton; one son and four daughters.

Piano, Voice Students Give Weekend Recitals
Piano and voice students of Irving Schweske gave two weekend recitals at the Gibson-Schweske Studios Saturday and Sunday.

Piano students Daniel Mullen, Julie Rudolph, Mary Mullen, Robert Engstrom and Christine Troge and singers Myrna Henke, Jean Braeger, Germaine Doerfler and Ann Harke presented selections.

At the Sunday recital Michel Gibson and Irving Schweske performed a short program for violin and piano.

Owners Dislike Skiing
The November ordinance authorized water skiing from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays, with the exception of holidays. The Sunday and holiday water skiing regulations now are from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Columbia Lake and from 10 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. on Long, Round, Rainbow and Long lakes. The ordinance also sets the hours of from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. for water skiing on Mondays and Fridays, except holidays.

Members of the association told the committee that the cottage owners are divided into 23 neighborhoods and each has a chairman who serves as a director on the association's board. They said some of the chairmen surveyed their neighborhoods and found, in some cases, that not a single property owner favored water skiing.

They stressed that, if the association wanted to circulate a petition or call for a referendum, water skiing would probably be banned.

Liberal Waupaca Boat, Ski Law May be Erased

WAUPACA — The liberalized Chain O' Lakes water skiing and boating ordinance adopted by the county board may be made stricter at the board's next session.

Officers and members of the Chain O' Lakes Protective Association and the county law enforcement committee agreed Friday night that the liberalized ordinance should be rescinded in favor of stricter regulations. The county committee will recommend such a change to the county board April 19.

Members of the committee admitted they were influenced by the water skiing and boating interests when the board adopted the ordinance Nov. 7. They said this was the first time they "heard the other side of the story." The association, which claims a membership of 437 of a possible 450 to 500 cottage owners, was not represented during the November deliberations.

6 m.p.h. Speed Limit
The recommendations of the association, approved by the county committee, include the reduction of the boat speed limit from 15 miles per hour to six miles per hour on Taylor, Otter, Sunset, George, Nessling, McCrossen, Limekiln, Otman, Bass, Beasley, Orlando, Knight, Manomin, Pope, Marl, Dake and Minor lakes. The speed limit on these lakes was six miles per hour prior to the November ordinance.

The committee also approved no water skiing on Columbia Lake on Sundays and holidays, reducing the skiing hours on week days on Long, Round, Rainbow and Columbia lakes from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., setting a six miles per hour limit on all lakes during night hours, setting a six miles per hour limit on the "cove" on Long Lake and increasing the water skiing hours on Long, Round and Rainbow lakes on Sundays and holidays from 10 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.

Five Hurt in Two-Car Crash

All Hospitalized After Collision on US 41 Near Appleton

Five people were injured Sunday evening when two cars collided while rounding the curve on U.S. 41 northwest of Appleton.

Injured were Richard J. Tease, 21, 1512 Rynder St., Appleton, concussion and multiple cuts and bruises; Richard Doege, 18, Brookfield, a cut left elbow; Mrs. Elmer Doege, 50, a dislocated shoulder and a head cut; Elmer Doege, a cut mouth, and Duane Wolda, 19, Peshtigo, a bumped knee and head.

Tease, driver of a car traveling south on 41 told police, "I don't remember how it happened, if I was driving, where I was coming from or who I had with me."

Richard Doege, said he saw the left rear fender of the Tease car slide into his lane and couldn't avoid hitting it.

The injured were taken to Appleton Memorial Hospital by Larry's ambulance. All are in satisfactory condition today.

Auto Smashes Into Cafe, Customer Hurt

An Appleton man seated in a restaurant was injured Sunday afternoon when a car went out of control and crashed through the front of the building.

Glen Opperman, 54, 125 N. Story St., received leg injuries and other patrons seated nearby had their clothing soiled in the freak accident.

County police said a car driven by Mrs. Floyd Wolters, 1517 W. Prospect St., Appleton, was being parked at the Big Boy restaurant on State 125 when the driver apparently stepped on the gas pedal instead of the brake.

The car bounced over a curb, crossed the sidewalk and struck the building, shattering a large plate glass window, knocking several bricks out of the wall as the wall was pushed inward and damaging three booths in the restaurant.

Opperman was taken to Appleton Memorial Hospital by Larry's ambulance, and is in satisfactory condition today.

Inquest Into Patrolman's Death Scheduled

A coroner's inquest into the death of County Patrolman Elwin A. Welch will be held in the courthouse annex at 2 p.m. Thursday, Coroner Bernard H. Kemps and Dist. Atty. Nick Schaefer said today.

Nine witnesses, including four policemen who investigated the April 1 car accident in which Welch was injured, will be called to testify.

Welch died April 2 as the result of injuries he received when his car collided with a car driven by Harry H. Bunks, 412 E. Brewster St., Appleton. The accident took place the afternoon of April 1 at U.S. 41 and County Trunk E.

Bunks, his wife and two witnesses to the accident also will testify.

Xavier to Offer Course In Remedial Reading
Future students of the Xavier High School boys' department who failed to make the eighth grade reading level on the Xavier placement test have been requested to take a course in remedial reading at Xavier this summer.

Those scoring low on the English portion of the test have also been requested to take a language arts course which will be offered this summer.

Letters have also been sent to parents of girls' department students concerning the results of the SCAT and STEP examinations and the Kuder Preference Test. The letters give the test scores in percentile ranks and explain the meaning of the scores.

Elvehjem Hails New UW Center at Green Bay Rites

$1.4 Million Building Will be Good for Community, He Says

BY JOHN P. DOYLE

Post-Crescent News Service

GREEN BAY — "Building the University of Wisconsin Extension Center in Green Bay is one of the most productive investments ever made by the residents of this city," University President Conrad A. Elvehjem said at the dedication of the new structure Sunday afternoon.

The modernistic, $1.4 million building, on 12 acres in East Joannes Park, was officially dedicated by center, university, and local government officials.

The building, financed by Brown County, is staffed and maintained by the university and has been in operation since January when the close to 400 freshmen and sophomores moved from "card-board tech" on N. Baird Street.

Happier Community
"I see a better, richer, happier community as a result of this new, and beautiful school," Elvehjem said. The Green Bay area will continue to rely on the center for educational services, he added.

"Our national progress," he said, "is not a 50 yard dash, but rather it is a relay race in which the most balanced team steadily pulls ahead." This was a comparison between our broad, democratic educational opportunities, and Russia's exploitation of education to produce technical proficiency in critical areas.

The Green Bay center is the fourth new building to be dedicated in the past two years. Others were opened at Wausau, Menasha, and Kenosha.

Double Enrollment
Board of Regents President Carl E. Steger said that within the next 10 years the student's enrollment in the state's colleges and university will double from the present 73,000.

This means, he continued, that the present facilities, both private and public, must be doubled.

Steger said that now one out of every three college age persons is attending a school in Wisconsin. Ten years ago, only one out of five went to college. In ten years, if this trend continues, there will be 144,000 students enrolled, he added.

Other Speakers
Also speaking to a group of over 200 persons in the school's gymnasium were L. H. Adolphson, dean of the extension division, and Dr. W. M. Hanley, director of the centers.

Others taking part in the hour-long program were Mayor Roman Denissen, and Brown County Board of Supervisors, chairman James Francois. Dr. Jac KBoies, the center's director, presided.

The group was entertained with several selections by the Green Bay center chorus under the direction of C. Scott Hunsberger.

Following the dedication, a reception was held in the student lounge, and the building was toured.

Kaukauna Man's Body Recovered At River Quarry

Cyril J. Bodde, 48, whose body was recovered from the Fox River in Kaukauna Sunday morning, apparently took his own life by drowning.

Outagamie County Coroner Bernard H. Kemps made the ruling today. The body was found by Kaukauna police about 15 feet from shore in a quarry off the Fox River near Lieber Lumber Co.

Bodde had been missing since Feb. 12, when he failed to return to his job at Thilmany Paper Co. after eating dinner at his home.

His car was found near the quarry and footprints leading to the quarry indicated he ran to the quarry and jumped into the water.

Dragging operations and skin divers failed to recover the body. Kaukauna police made daily checks in the area and the body was found floating near the shore at 8:30 a.m. Sunday.

Funeral services will be at 9 a.m. Tuesday at Holy Cross Catholic Church, Kaukauna, with burial in the parish cemetery. Bodde is survived by his wife, his mother and one sister. Fargo Funeral Home, Kaukauna, is in charge of arrangements.

Miss Kathleen Vanda will begin work as Outagamie County home agent beginning June 1. Miss Vanda is presently home agent in Barron County.

Kimberly Youth Hurt in Crash

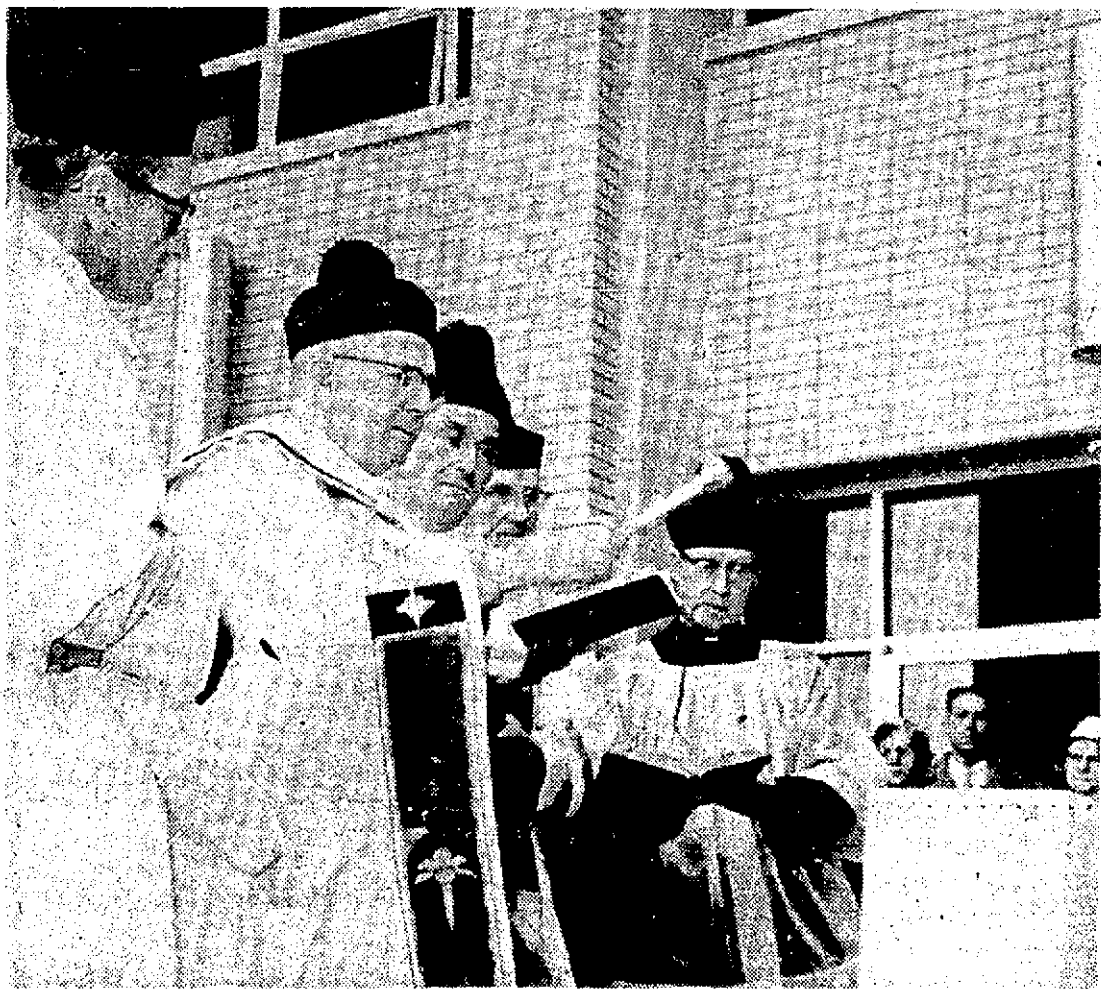

KIMBERLY — Victor Courchane Jr., 17, of 301 S. John St., Kimberly, suffered a lacerated forehead, a cut above the right eye, and a bruised chest, when the car he was driving south on Railroad Street left the road and hit a power pole about 8:50 a.m. Sunday.

Courchane told police he had turned to right a battery which had tipped in the back seat when he ran off the road and hit the pole. He was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital by a resident who witnessed the accident.

Atomic Industry Has Problem With Wastes

'Garbage' Stays Hot
Hundreds of Years,
Must be Buried

BY ARTHUR J. SNIDER
Chicago Daily News Service

TUCSON, Ariz.—At your house, the garbage truck comes by, empties the cans and hauls the refuse to an incinerator or dumping ground. No problem.

But consider the atomic energy industry. Atomic garbage is like nothing ever known. It radiates and stays "hot" for thousands of years. You can't simply dump it on the edge of the city.

The waste comes from the fissioning of fuel in the atomic furnace. As in a coal stove, ashes accumulate and tend to smother the fire unless removed.

There also is a low level waste that accumulates from nuclear ships, laboratories using isotopes, hospitals and industry.

Dispersed Into Air
This presents less of a problem. Much of mildly hot waste can be dispersed into the air, ground and water under careful management. Thousands of gallons have been put in 55-gallon drums and dropped to the bottom of the Atlantic and Pacific.

An Argonne National Laboratory scientist estimated that the world's nuclear power industries will be producing radioactive fission wastes at the rate of 1,000 tons a year by the end of the century.

Speaking at a nuclear power symposium sponsored by the University of Arizona here this week, A. A. Jonke said the disposal problem has been studied for 15 years but no satisfactory solution is at hand.

The present makeshift procedure is to put the very hot radioactive wastes in storage tanks and bury them in an atomic cemetery. But eventually we will run out of burial ground.

There are more than 50,000 gallons underground at the Hanford Atomic Energy Commission plant in Washington. There are other established burial grounds at Oak Ridge, Tenn., Los Alamos, N. M., the Savannah River plant, and in Idaho.

Argonne, because of densely populated sections nearby, ships its wastes to one of the established burial grounds.

Decisions Affect Cheese Industry

Import of Colby
Cut in New Zealand,
Blue Mold Increased

Post-Crescent Washington Bureau
WASHINGTON — Within the last two weeks, the White House has taken two executive actions on the conversion of wastes to solids—thereby reducing the quantity—and disposing of them in underground formations not connected with water sources.

At Oak Ridge, scientists are studying the feasibility of mixing the liquid wastes with cement or some other hardening agent and injecting them, while still fluid, into a specially constructed well of bedded rock.

The pressure developed at the bottom of the well would force the rock to fracture and separate. The waste-cement mixture would flow out into the rock in a thin sheet and would harden.

Early tests have shown this method to be promising. Work is being started on developing a waste-cement-clay mixture suitable for use in hydraulic fracturing, Jonke said.

A deep test well has been started to core rocks down to 33,000 feet to see if deeper formations would be suitable for waste disposal.

affecting the importation of cheeses, which, one dairy industry spokesman predicted may further depress the present domestic market.

One action concerned a unilateral agreement with New Zealand to cut its import of Colby cheese, which is similar to Cheddar, from 7½ to 6 million pounds a year, beginning July 1.

The dairy spokesman, who did not wish to be identified, expressed fear that other importing countries such as Australia and Canada might step into the picture to fill up the gap in their own exports to make up for those cut from New Zealand.

"In addition to that, New Zealand never did export her limit of Colby to us anyhow," the dairy industry representative commented.

The other action taken by the President was the proclamation increasing the amount of blue mold cheese which could be imported during the next fiscal year, which commences July, by one million pounds.

This proclamation is in direct opposition to recommendations made by the Tariff Commission last fall. At that time the commission, at the request of Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman stated that the domestic dairy industry would be injured if further blue cheese were imported from Europe.

What reasons the Executive Branch had to go against the advice of both the Secretary of Agriculture and the Tariff Commission have not been spelled out.

Unemployment Drops 161,000 During March

WASHINGTON (AP) — Unemployment declined by 161,000 in March to 4,362,000, Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg said today.

Employment hit a March record of 66,316,000, an increase of 527,000 from February, he said.

The seasonally adjusted unemployment rate declined further to 5.5 per cent of the work force compared with 5.6 per cent in February.

Goldberg gave the figures at the opening session of a two-day conference for editors and reporters in the economic and labor relations field.

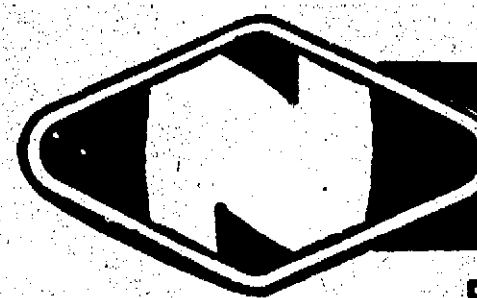

Republican congressmen scheduled a counterbriefing later on the same subject.

Winter Blast Hits Midwest

Some Sections Get 2-3 Feet of Snow, Severe Drifting

Snow appeared tapering off in the northern Midwest today after a spring storm over the weekend dumped a heavy covering in sections of the Dakotas and Minnesota.

Snowfalls ranged up to two to three feet in the Fargo, N.D., area and the nearly one-foot fall in International Falls, Minn., was reported the heaviest of the year. Several trunk highways in southwestern Minnesota were blocked by the blowing, drifting snow. Driving conditions in many sections of the snow belt were hazardous. Snow plows which had been put back in storage in most places were brought out to clear the roads.

Other Wet Spots

There were several other wet spots, with rain and a mixture of snow and rain. Shower and snow showers extended from the central and northern Pacific coast eastward through the central and northern Plateau states to the central Rockies. Three inches of snow fell in Leadville, Colo., making a covering of 18 inches on the ground.

Winter weather attacked Wisconsin Sunday night and today, but it lacked its old punch.

The northern part of the state was hit with a variety of precipitation, including light snow and rain mixed with snow. The Superior area had about three inches of new snow, most of which melted soon after it fell.

Warning Tuesday

Milwaukee and Racine reported .46 of an inch of rain Sunday. Green Bay had .31, Madison and Wausau .28, Beloit .27, Lone Rock .16 and La Crosse and Park Falls .08.

It will be cloudy and cool in the Fox Cities today with highs reaching the upper 30s and lows tonight in the 20s. Light rain or snow may fall intermittently today.

Sunny weather will bring temperatures to the upper 40s Tuesday and warming should continue Wednesday.

C of C Displays Lamps Made in Jr. Business Program

NEENAH — Tamica Products, Inc., one of the two junior business corporations of high school students sponsored by the Neenah-Menasha Junior Chamber of Commerce, is displaying the table lamps its members make at the Chamber of Commerce office and at Wanserski's Grocery in Menasha this week.

The youths meet one day a week to study business methods through actual application. The lamp bases are made from rolls of gummed tape shaped into different conical forms and then hardened by being soaked in water.

After the lamp base is dried, it is sanded and stained and then varnished. The lamps bases then are wired and other fixtures secured to make a complete lamp except for the shade.

Xavier High School Boys Start Series of Fund-Raising Projects

The Xavier High School Boys' Student Council is undertaking a series of fund raising activities to match the efforts of the girls' department.

The boys' department has promised to match the funds raised by the girls, and the senior boys have promised to match the efforts of the other three classes.

The boys raised about $100 with a faculty - student basketball game last week. Their next project will be a city-wide paper drive April 21.

Funds collected through these activities will be used to help pay for equipping the stage in the gymnasium.

The girls have raised more $300 through a series of "Crunch Days" on which carrots were sold and with a white elephant sale.

Break-In Reported At Labor Temple

An undetermined amount of change was taken from three vending machines at a break-in at the Appleton Labor Temple during the weekend, Appleton police said today.

One Out of Two

Manufacture one word out of two other words. Combine the letters of one word with the letters of another word, rearrange all the letters, and form that third word. For example, TEAR plus COIN will combine and arrange into the one word CREATION. Now see what you can do with the following:

- DARN plus LACE.
- RATES plus WE.
- COAT plus COB.
- BANG plus AIR.
- NET plus TRAMPED.
- YAMS plus RISE.
- CAMEL plus INTER.
- PRANCE plus MEET.
- SEWER plus HEEL.
- DROVE plus PINT.
- FURL plus STAM.
- DROPS plus PIER.

ANSWERS

- Calendar.
- Sweater.
- To-bacco.
- Bargain.
- Department.
- One Out of Two.
- Worm.
- Inter-act.
- Meat.
- Heel-sew.
- Pint-drove.
- Stam-furl.
- Pier-drops.

Lesson in English

BY W. L. GORDON

Words Often Misused: Distinguish between imply (to suggest or hint) and infer (to conclude or gather). Thus: "The chairman of the board implied that the profits of the company were increasing, and the members inferred from his statement that larger dividends were forthcoming."

Often Mispronounced: Radiator. Pronounce first syllable as "rad-i," and not as "radd-i," sometimes heard.

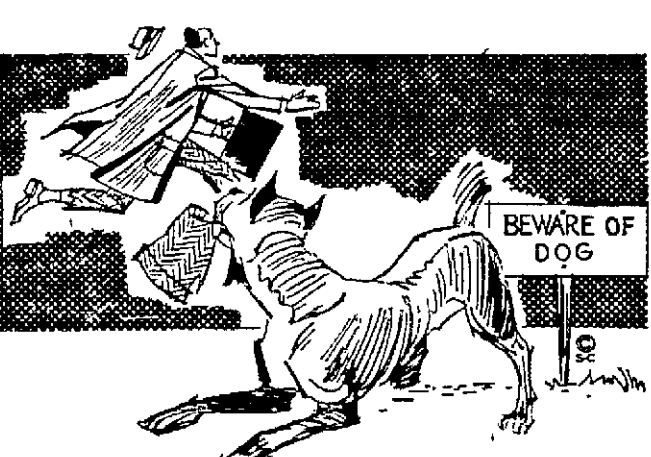

Often Misspelled: Earn (to gain by labor). Erne (a sea eagle). Urn (a vase).

Word Study: "Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day.

Today's word: insoluble; not to be solved or explained. "These are the insoluble riddles of life."

- Emissary.
- Mercantile.
- Temperance.
- Elsewhere.
- Provident.
- Masterful.
- Prospered.

KRA Archers Win Title in State Meet

Della Grimm Takes Women's Sight Crown

RACINE (AP)—The KRA entry of Kimberly captured the team championship in the Wisconsin Archers Association Tournament Sunday with 3,073 points.

Racine Archers was second with 3,058 and Winnebago Archers third with 2,942.

Lucky Slaminio of Milwaukee edged Ken Bodway of Appleton to win the men's sight crown in the open division. Both scored 794 points, but Slaminio had 83 bullseyes to 82 for Bodway.

The women's sight title went to Della Grimm of Little Chute with 704 points.

Don Bodway fired the best score in the team shoot for the KRA as he led the team with a 798 score. A perfect count would be 810.

Ken Bodway was second on the squad with a 767, Della Grimm followed with a 766 and Norb Ohm had 742.

Other teams and their order of finish included Green Bay, fourth; Wauwatosa, fifth; North Fond du Lac, sixth; Fond du Lac Lost Arrow, seventh; IPC, Appleton, eighth; Kenosha, ninth and Wau-paca, 10th.

Area archers placing in the individual events were Bob Schaefer, Waupaca, second, men's barebow open division; Lois Ber-to, Waupaca, women's barebow open division; Michael Green, Waupaca, first, junior boy's bare-bow; Charles Grimm, Little Chute, second, cadet boys' sight; Debra enefski, Appleton, first, cadet girl's sight and Ann Wil-denberg, Little Chute, third, ca-det girl's sight.

McCormick To be Out Indefinitely

Dark Says Shoulder Tightness Bother's Southpaw Ace

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Mike McCormick, a disappointment in spring training, won't pitch for the San Francisco Giants until his left arm loosens and he can throw hard again.

That was the word from Man-ager Alvin Dark on the team's return Sunday night from spring training.

McCormick won't even work the bull pen, Dark said. He'll be used in batting practice only until he gets his hard, fast one back and he may be sent to the Giants' minor league training camp at Casa Grande, Ariz., to work on it in the sunshine.

Loss of McCormick is a blow to Giant pennant hopes. He was ex-pected to be one of the regular Giant starters. Juan Marichal is the No. 1 starter, who opens the season here Tuesday against Mil-waukee.

Pierce to Start

McCormick had been tentative-ly slated to start Friday in the first game of the Cincinnati se-ries here. Billy Pierce will start then instead, Dark said.

Dark says shoulder tightness is bothering McCormick but trainer Frank Bowman says he can find nothing wrong with the shoulder. Dark watched McCormick for two innings in a rained out game in Salt Lake City Sunday and de-cided he isn't ready.

Asked about his shoulder and his relief from starting assign-ment, McCormick said only, "No comment."

He has thrown nothing but curves and change-ups all spring, and in 12 1-3 innings against Class A opposition allowed 12 hits, two of them homers.

Hall Hero as Chicago Defeats Montreal, 2-0, Reaches 'Cup' Finals

Second Period Save Called Biggest of Season by Goalie

BY JOE MOOSHIL

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Black Hawks feel they are rolling now after a slow start and have every bit of confidence that they will successfully defend their Stanley Cup hockey championship against the Toronto Maple Leafs.

The necessary momentum, they feel, was supplied Sunday night when they dumped the Montreal Canadiens, 2-0, behind the bril-liant goal tending of Glenn Hall. It marked the fourth straight Hawk victory over the Canadiens, who had won the first two games in the best-of-seven semifinal se-ries. Toronto, in reaching the finals, defeated New York 4-2 in semifinal play.

The two teams open the final best-of-seven series in Toronto Tuesday night and play there again Thursday. Then they switch to Chicago for the third and fourth games, April 15 and 17. Tentative dates for other games, if neces-sary, are April 19 in Toronto, April 22 in Chicago and April 24 in Toronto.

Resweber Suffers Head Injuries

READING, Pa. (AP) — Na-tional champion Carroll Resweber of Cedarburg, Wis., suffered head injuries Sunday when his head struck a pole on the inside of the track during the fea-ture five-mile Billy Hunter motorcycle race at the Reading Fair Grounds.

Resweber, who was injured on the seventh lap, was treated at the track.

George Roeder of Monroeville, Ohio, won the race in 4 minutes 59.42 seconds.

ram scored Chicago's goals in the clincher Sunday night but Hall was the real hero. Both coach Rudy Pilous of Chicago and Toe Blake of Montreal agreed Hall's save on Dickie Moore's shot in the second period was the turning point.

Moore came in on Hall with the Hawks leading 1-0. He faked twice and finally shot. Hall, still off bal-ance, lunged with his left foot and kicked it out.

"I guess that may have been my biggest save of the season," said Hall, who turned in two suc-cessive shutouts against Montreal in last year's semifinal round.

Pilous reminded everyone that "it wasn't luck, we just were a better hockey team than Mont-real."

The Hawks have their work cut out for them against Toronto. During the regular season they won only one game at Toronto against four losses and two ties.

'Roadblock' Jones Injures Eye in Freak Accident

PORTSMOUTH, Va. (AP) — As if the New York Mets didn't have enough pitching problems, Sher-man (Roadblock) Jones, their No. 2 fliinger, injured his eye in a freak accident Sunday.

Jones, scheduled to start the second game against the Cardinals in St. Louis Wednesday, struck a match to light a cigarette. Part of the phosphorus flew into his eye.

It left a scar and physicians placed a black patch over the eye. He will see a specialist Monday.

This is the second accident Jones has suffered this spring. He was out 10 days earlier when he was hit in the shin by a line drive. In his last appearance a week ago Saturday, he shut out the Cards.

"It doesn't look," signed Man-ager Casey Stengel, "that this guy is going to do any pitching Wed-nesday."

Mack Jones, Joe Adcock Belt Homers

SAN DIEGO, CALIF. (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves played a wait-ing game today, the eve of the opening of their 1962 National League season.

The Braves closed out their ex-hibition campaign Sunday, beat-ing the Los Angeles Dodgers 5-3. The victory was the 10th in 27 spring games for the Braves, who finished ninth in the National League warmup campaign.

Milwaukee opens its season Tuesday against the Giants in San Francisco, with Warren Spahn drawing the first pitching assignment. The Braves will make their first Milwaukee ap-pearance Wednesday afternoon April 18 against the Giants.

The Braves wound up the cam-paign with a flash of power, Mack Jones and Joe Adcock belt-ing home runs. Adcock's three-run blast in the sixth was the decisive blow as it pulled the Braves from behind and put them out in front to stay.

Hendley Wins

Milwaukee's mound trio of Bob Buhl, Bob Hendley and Hank Fischer held the Dodgers to six hits, the same number collected by the Braves off Stan Williams, Phil Ortega and Willard Hunter. Hendley was the winner while the loss went to Ortega, who gave up all but one of the Milwaukee runs.

Buhl started and allowed a run in each of the first two innings. The Dodgers scored in the first on singles by Willie Davis, John Roseboro and Duke Snider. A single by Davis produced the se-ond-ing run after Andy Carey had been hit by a pitch and Larry Burritt walked.

Jones' fourth - inning homer trimmed the Dodger lead to 2-1 and Adcock's smash two innings later was enough to win. He con-nected after Hank Aaron doubled and Jones walked.

The Braves got four of their hits off Ortega, who came on in the fourth after Williams had pitched three hitless innings. The final Milwaukee run was un-earned, crossing in the seventh after Hendley got two bases on an error ahead of Howie Bedell's single off Hunter.

The Dodgers tried hard to catch up in the ninth but were cut short by rookie Fischer. The stocky righthander gave up walks to Maury Willis and Burritt.

Gary Player, Finsterwald, Palmer Battle For Title

Finish in Three-Way Masters Tie

BY MERCER BAILEY

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Arnold Palmer, who again has proved he is the game's greatest pressure player, was favored over Gary Player and Dow Finsterwald in today's 18-hole playoff for the 26th Masters golf championship.

No less an authority than Play-er, the little defending champion from South Africa, made that ap-praisal of the dramatic windup head-to-head battle.

"Personally, I feel that on this course, his distance off the tee gives Arnie an advantage," Play-er said. "He can reach the par-5 holes when Dow and I can't. I'm not giving up."

Palmer, leading Finsterwald by two shots and Player by four go-ing into Sunday's fourth round, made the playoff only by staging another of the fantastic finishes for which he is famous.

After straying tee shots and a balky putter apparently had knocked Palmer out of the run-ning, the strong boy from Latrobe, Pa., rallied spectacularly on the last three holes. He chipped in for a birdie-deuce on No. 16 and after two fine shots on 17 stroked in an eight-foot beauty for another birdie.

Close Misses

Finsterwald, who is better known for close misses than his 1958 PGA Championship victory, already was in by this time with a 73 and 280 total.

Palmer and Player parred 18 in somewhat routine fashion al-though Palmer said his second putt of about two feet "looked like 20 feet." Player's second putt was about three feet.

Palmer's 75 and Player's 71 forced the Masters into its first three-way playoff. There have been three previous playoffs — Gene Sarazen beat Craig Wood by five shots over 36 holes in 1935, Byron Nelson bested Ben Hogan by one stroke in 1942 and Sam Snead beat Hogan by one shot in 1954.

Neither Palmer, Player or Fin-sterwald has a very impressive playoff record. In 18-hole playoffs Palmer has won one and lost two. He has won five and lost one sud-den-death affairs. Player never has been in an 18-hole match, but

Pipers Fail to Show for Tilt, Play Tonight

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The American Basketball League championship will be decided here tonight when the Cleveland Pipers and the Kansas City Steers tangle in the final game of the best-of-five series.

The game is to be played in the Rockhurst College gymnasium. Kansas City's Municipal Auditori-um, where the Steers normally play their home games, is not available tonight.

Originally scheduled for last night, the Cleveland team did not show up for the contest because the team's president, George Steinbrenner, had protested selec-tion of the playing site.

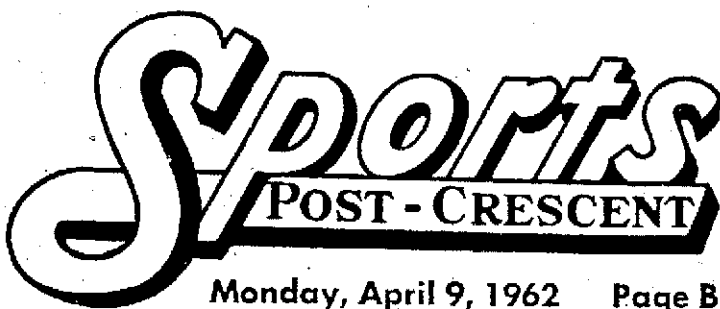

He contended the league agreed in a meeting at Chicago two weeks ago to hold the last three games in an Eastern Division city.

But ABL Commissioner Abe Saperstein ruled Sunday the game must be played in Kansas City no later than tonight.

The Steers won the first two games of the series in Kansas City, 126-115 and 118-82.

The Pipers won the next two in Cleveland, 116-114 and 100-98.

Military Demands Will Help Determine Bays' Success, Says Vince

St. Norbert Alumni Set Up New Lombardi Scholarship

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Green Bay Packer Coach Vince Lombardi said Sunday the 1962 suc-cess of his National Football League champions will depend in part upon the demands of the military. Five Packers are on ac-tive duty.

"We truly understand this great challenge to repeat as cham-pions," Lombardi said. "If this team is willing to sacrifice as much as it did last year, we will be ready to accept that challenge."

Lombardi, making his first pub-lic Milwaukee appearance since the Packers won the title, spoke to about 250 persons attending a testimonial to him sponsored by the local chapter of the St. Norbert Alumni Association.

The association also announced the Vince Lombardi Scholarship, to be awarded by the alumni to a Milwaukee student wishing to attend St. Norbert.

The Packers on active military duty are halfback Paul Hornung, linebacker Ray Nitschke and end Boyd Dowler, called up in the middle of last season, and de-fensive back Herb Adderley and running back Elijah Pitts.

6-Month Tours

Adderley and Pitts are on six-month duty tours and expected back in time for the 1962 cam-paign. The other three are with units expected to be released in late August.

Lombardi said that when guard Jerry Kramer broke his leg last season, "I doubted very much that we could stay in the race. Kramer was the league's out-standing guard, some say he may be the best guard in the history of the game."

The coach also said jokingly that Hornung "is a very ordinary back—until he gets 15 yards away from the goal line. Then he's the greatest. You see, he can't do anything but score points."

There is no competition between pro and college grid teams, ex-cept at the gate, Lombardi said. And pointing to attendance, he noted that both collegiate and

A rookie who isn't even on the roster and a well-established catcher closed out the major league exhibition season with two of the spring's most impressive hitting performances.

Rookie Bob Sadowski blasted three home runs and a single and drove in five runs for the Chi-cago White Sox Sunday while Earl Battey of the Minnesota Twins drove in four runs on a homer, two doubles and two singles.

Theirs were the standout per-formances in a rain-troubled clos-ing exhibition schedule that in-cluded a couple of rare ties — Cleveland and San Francisco 4-4 in 8 1/2 innings at Salt Lake City, and Philadelphia and St. Louis 3-3 in 10 innings at Atlanta, Ga.

The tie, which doesn't go on the exhibition records, left the hope-ful Cards with an 18-8 .692 rec-ord for the spring, tops in the Na-tional League and best in the Grapefruit, composed of those teams which trained in Florida.

The Chicago Cubs, who regis-tered an 8-7 victory over Boston at Wichita, Kan., finished with an 18-9 .667 mark that was best in the Cactus League, those teams training in Arizona and California.

The New York Yankees, rained out in their game with Detroit at Richmond, backed into the American League lead.

Chicago, tied with New York with a 17-10 record going into the final game, lost to Cincinnati 8-6 at Indianapolis in spite of Sadow-ski's inspired hitting.

Sadowski, a second base under-study to the Sox' aging Nellie Fox, got a three-run homer off Dave Sisler and one-run jobs off Sam Ellis and Dave Hillman.

Battey, Minnesota's regular catcher, did his belting at the ex-pense of Kansas City at Jackson-ville and led the Twins to an 8-4 windup victory.

In the others, all final exhibi-tions, Mack Jones' solo blast and Joe Adcock's three-run homer featured Milwaukee's 5-3 triumph over the Los Angeles Dodgers at 3216. Second in regular team scratch went to Pepsi - Cola of Milwaukee with 3103.

Bruhn's Version of O'Dea's 17-Year Disappearance Adds to Mystery

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Death has deepened the mystery sur-rounding Pat O'Dea, the Univer-sity of Wisconsin's drop-kicking football star before the turn of the century.

Another version of why O'Dea disappeared for 17 years has been offered by the present Wisconsin coach, Milt Bruhn, who said the story related to him by O'Dea in-cluded fears of violence.

Bruhn added to the intrigue by saying he was unable to find O'Dea's San Francisco home, finding a warehouse instead when he went to the address appearing on the former star's letters.

There will be no answers to the questions raised by Bruhn's story. O'Dea died in San Francisco at the age of 90 last Wednesday, one day after he was named to Foot-ball's Hall of Fame.

Found in 1934

The record books are filled with the deeds of O'Dea. He was credited with punts the full length of the gridiron, 110 yards long when he was playing at Wiscon-sin from 1896 through 1899. His best drop kick field goal is listed at 62 yards.

But in 1917 O'Dea dropped from sight in San Francisco, where he practiced law, and was given up for dead, possibly a victim of World War I. He was found in 1934 in the northern California lumber town of Westwood where he had been living under the name of Charles Mitchell.

O'Dea was quoted as saying he disappeared because his football fame made it impossible to lead a normal life.

But Bruhn has another version, given him by O'Dea.

"I didn't ask him," Bruhn said. "He just told me and I was sure he was telling the truth. I was in San Francisco a few years ago as an assistant coach on the East team for the Shrine football game."

"I took Pat to dinner . . . After we returned to the hotel, Pat and I sat in the lobby and talked for a long time."

"He said his boss, an industrial-ist, needed someone to do an undercover job at his lumber mill. The company was having lots of trouble and it was necessary that Pat's identity not be known or he couldn't have gotten the informa-tion needed."

Bruhn said that O'Dea told of getting the desired information, but added that even when the trouble was cleared up his em-ployer insisted he continue using the Mitchell name.

"I could have been done away with if certain people knew who I was and what I was doing," Bruhn quoted O'Dea as saying. "I believe all Pat told me," Bruhn said. "He wasn't trying to kid me . . . It was straight from the shoul-der talk."

Kimberly '5' Edges Xavier For Third Place

Louis Hemauer, Top Tourney Players

MENASHA—Van Elzen's (Kimberly) edged Louie's Supper Club (Xavier), 65-63, for third place in the St. John Amateur Open Senior Basketball Tournament here Sunday night.

The championship went to Laemmrich Funeral Home (St. Mary) by virtue of a 73-67 verdict over defending champion Bobbie's (Manitowoc).

Xavier and Kimberly were tied, 59-51, at the end of regulation time, but the Papermakers hit a basket and four free throws in the extra period to one fielder and two gifters for the Hawks.

Kimberly had led, 36-32, at halftime but was down 49-43 at the close of three periods.

Polman Hits 18

Rick Polman led Kimberly's balanced attack with 18 points. Al Schmidt hit 14, Al Hietpas, 13 and Tom Roovers, 11. Mike Flanagan coined 21 for Xavier. Joel Ebben had 14 and Tom Timmers 12.

Xavier lost to Manitowoc, 67-62, in the afternoon semi-finals. The Hawks led, 26-24, at the half but were down, 50-42, at the end of three frames.

Bill Duebner paced the Shipbuilders with 22 points. Flanagan had 28 and Tom Hayes 13 for Xavier. The Hawks played both games without Chuck Luck, who was ill.

St. Mary stopped Kimberly, 70-59, to advance to the finals. The Zephyrs trailed, 29-27, at halftime but had a 48-42 lead going into the fourth period.

Polman had 20 points, Jim Van Grinsven 13 and Schmidt 11 for Kimberly. Rich Konkol topped St. Mary with 18.

Flanagan Honored

St. Mary's Louie Hemauer was named the most valuable player in the tourney and Flanagan chosen second most valuable. The Xavier youth, who was sixth man on this year's Fox Valley Catholic Conference champions, scored 104 points in four games.

Other all-meet choices were Schmidt, Polman and Van Grinsven, Kimberly; Ebben, Xavier;

A. J. Foyt Sets Track Record

Wins 100-Mile Auto Club Race at Trenton Speedway

TRENTON, N.J. (AP)—A. J. Foyt of Houston, Tex., blazed to an all-time track record Sunday and won the fifth annual 100-mile U.S. Auto Club national championship race at the Trenton Speedway.

Foyt, winner of the Indianapolis 500-mile classic last Memorial Day and national champion in 1960 and 1961, covered the distance in 59 minutes, 20.77 seconds, for an average speed of 101.101 miles per hour.

The old record of 59 minutes, 29.89 seconds was set last year by Eddie Sachs.

Foyt shot into the lead for keeps in the 27th mile. He won by about a quarter of a mile over Parnelli Jones of Gardena, Calif.

Rodger Ward of Indianapolis, a former 500-mile champion, was third. Don Branson of Champaign, Ill., was fourth, and Don Davis of Phoenix, Ariz., who set a track record in the time trials, was fifth.

Of the 22 cars in the race, 12 crossed the finish line. Other finishers included 6, Jim Hurtubise, North Tonawanda, N.Y.; 7, Len Sutton, Portland, Ore.; 8, Roger McCluskey, Tucson, Ariz.; 9, Shorty Templeman, Seattle, Wash.; 10, Bobby Marshman, Indianapolis; 11, Bruce Jacoby, Gardena, Calif.; 12, Dempsey Wilson, Lawndale, Calif.

Braves Down Dodgers, 5-3 with the inning's run going home on a single by Davis. Fischer then earned his keep by fanning the next three batters.

Another Braves unit was playing a second Dodger combination at Long Beach. Los Angeles won that affair, 3-1. A crowd of 9,014 saw the game here, while 4,600 turned out at Long Beach.

The Braves trimmed the roster to the opening day limit of 28 by sending Phil Roof to Louisville outright after he handled the catching chore here Sunday. Louisville assigned him to Austin in the Texas League.

Appleton's Hohman Called Best Lineman in Scrimmage

MADISON (AP)—"We got a lot out of it," Coach Milt Bruhn said of the first five days of spring drills after sending his Wisconsin football team through a scrimmage on Saturday.

"There was far too much off-side, backs in motion and such things," Bruhn said, "but that is the least of our worries at the moment."

Newcomer Ralph Kurek, a 205-pound fullback from Watertown, ran for three touchdowns in the scrimmage while playing with a second unit. His longest dash was 70 yards, another 35.

Bruhn had a special word for Kurek, and also for Jon Hohman, a freshman guard from Appleton. "He was our best offensive lineman," the coach said.

Another pleasing performer was freshman end Ralph Farmer of Madison. The 6-foot-5, 235-pound Farmer caught five passes from quarterback candidate John Fabry, who was running the first team.

Farmer is about the same size as Pat Richter, the Badgers' star end.

Movies were taken of the two-hour drill and they are expected to result in some shifting of personnel.

Three Golfers Play Off for Masters Title

lost all four of his sudden-death playoffs. Finsterwald won his only previous 18-hole, and lost three sudden-death battles against one victory.

Only Gene Littler, the current U.S. Open champion, was in the thick of things with the three leaders in the final round. When Finsterwald bogied the 17th hole—and that was a costly bogey—Littler got a birdie and pulled within one shot of the leader. But he bogied the final hole and finished with a 71 and 282.

The playoff, which starts at 1:45 p.m., EST, will go into sudden-death in case of a tie after 18 holes. CBS-TV will telecast the playoff between 5 and 6 p.m.

$109,000 Purse

The 1962 Masters carried a record purse of $109,000. The playoff will determine who gets the $20,000 top prize, second money of $12,000 and third prize of $8,000. Littler got $8,000 for fourth place. Every professional who attended the tournament, whether or not he hit a shot, got $400 and those who survived the cut and completed 72 holes got a minimum of $500.

Behind the top four, there was a four-way tie for fifth at 287—Jimmy Demaret, Jerry Barber, Billy Maxwell and Mike Souchak. Tied at 288—even par for the 6,990-yard Augusta National course—were amateur Charlie Coe and pro Ken Venturi.

That dramatic chip-in on No. 16 was Palmer's first birdie of the final round. Earlier, poor shots and missed putts cost him three bogies and a double bogey, the latter on No. 10, where his approach shot went over the green against a tree. He pitched up and took three putts from 30 feet.

Finsterwald birdied two par-5 holes to offset two bogies and was even par for the day and nine under for the tournament when he took his bogey on 17. After a poor drive there, his second shot sailed over the green. He chipped up about six feet from the cup and missed the putt. That, as it turned out, made the difference between winning and tying.

Player had an erratic round—scoring three bogies, four birdies and two pars on the front nine. He settled down on the back nine and shot seven pars, one birdie and one bogey.

Oddsmakers Favor Yanks and Dodgers

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—The oddsmakers like the New York Yanks in the race for the American League baseball pennant.

The Yanks are 1-3; if you put $3 on them and they win you get the $3 back plus $1 more.

Others in the American League are Detroit, 6-1; Baltimore, 10-1; Cleveland, 20-1; Chicago White Sox, 15-1; Minnesota, 55-1.

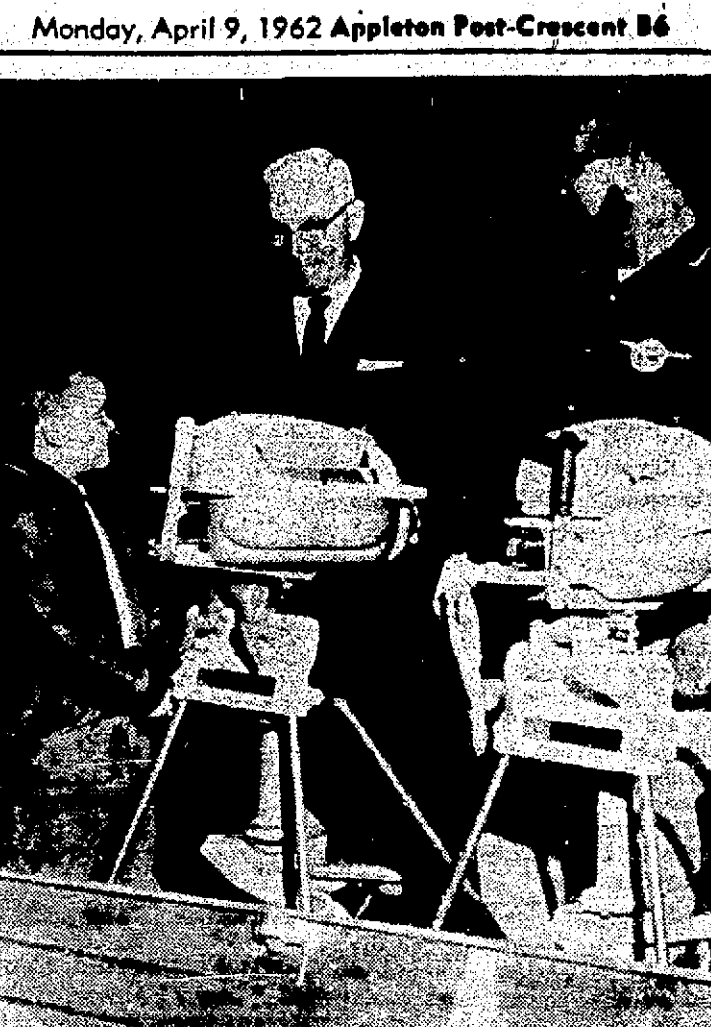

The Los Angeles Angels are 150-1. Oddsmaker Jimmy Snyder lumps the Angels, the Boston Red Sox, Kansas City and Washington together at 150-1.

In the National League, the Dodgers are favored at 2-1. Then Milwaukee, 9-2; San Francisco, 5-1; St. Louis, 6-1; Cincinnati, 8-1; Pittsburgh, 15-1; and the Chicago Cubs, 70-1.

Lumped together, Philadelphia, Houston and the New York Mets are 300-1.

Arnold Palmer is the picture of frustration as he misses a putt during the fourth round of the Masters golf tournament at Augusta, Ga., Sunday. Palmer, a strong favorite, had a lead going into the final round but soared to a 75 and a 3-way tie with Gary Player and Dow Finsterwald.

Arnold Palmer is the picture of frustration as he misses a putt during the fourth round of the Masters golf tournament at Augusta, Ga., Sunday. Palmer, a strong favorite, had a lead going into the final round but soared to a 75 and a 3-way tie with Gary Player and Dow Finsterwald.

Palmer Feels He's Lucky to Be in Playoff

Arnold Disappointed About His Playing Before Final Rally

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Arnold Palmer, who came within a whisker of blowing his second straight Masters Golf Tournament in the final round, figures he's a lucky guy.

"Sure, I think I'm fortunate to be in a tie and the playoff," Palmer said after a breath-taking rally on the closing holes to deadlock Dow Finsterwald and defending champion Gary Player.

"I played so bad out there, I couldn't have made the podunk open."

Going into the 16th, Palmer needed to birdie 2 of the last three holes to gain a tie. He started to use a four-iron off the 15th tee, then switched to a five-iron.

"I thought I'd have to hit that five-iron hard. I hit it too hard," he recalled. His shot sailed over the green 50 feet from the cup.

Demaret Watching

Former Masters champ Jimmy Demaret was watching proceedings on television back at the clubhouse, and he remarked:

"There's no way in the world a man can get down from there in two strokes."

Palmer didn't know that, though. He took his wedge and chipped in. One stroke he used instead of the three Demaret figured he would need.

One birdie down, one to go. That came quickly. On No. 17, Palmer got off a whale of a drive, a fine approach shot and then sank what he said was "my only putt of the day" — an 8-footer.

Player, the little South African star, started the round four shots off the pace, but never counted himself out of it.

"I'll put it this way," he explained. "Last year when I was ahead of Anrie by four shots I never had any feeling of certainty that I had it won. So today, when I'm four shots behind him, I never felt any certainty that he had it won."

While Palmer and Player were putting on their dramatic drive, Finsterwald was sweating it out in the private quarters of Tournament Chairman Cliff Roberts.

Asked if he wanted to slip into a green jacket, which is presented to all Masters winners, Finsterwald declined, saying he'd prefer to wait until it was all over.

Rosburg Disqualifies Himself After Signing Erroneous Score Card

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Bob Rosburg of Portland, Ore., disqualified himself Sunday before the start of the fourth round of the Masters golf tournament because he signed an erroneous score card.

Rosburg, unhappy with his play in the third round, signed his card without checking it. The card showed him with a par-4 on 18 for a 78 and 222 when actually he took a bogey there for 79 and 223.

He notified tournament officials and disqualified himself. Rosburg received $400 just for making an appearance here—as did all other non-money-winning pros.

Pittsburgh's Mazeroski Getting to be Known As 'Mr. Automatic'

FORT MYERS, Fla. (AP) — Bill Mazeroski of the Pittsburgh Pirates is getting to be known as Mr. Automatic. In 1961 he led the National League second basemen in games played, putouts, assists, total chances and in double plays.

Maz played 152 games, handled 410 putouts, made 505 assists, was involved in 938 chances and took part in 144 double plays. He also led the second basemen in errors with 23. However, his .975 fielding average was third among second sackers who played more than 100 National League games in 1961.

New Attempt Made for Stadium Six Packs

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves' request for permission to raise the price of beer from 30 to 35 cents a bottle at County Stadium apparently has precipitated a new attempt to permit fans to bring six packs into the ballpark.

Supervisor Cornelius Jankowski announced that he and two other supervisors would introduce an amendment to the ordinance enacted March 6, 1961 by the County Board, under which carry-ins of beer and liquor were prohibited. Jankowski said only six packs of beer could be carried into the Stadium under the proposal.

Saari, Jastremski Both Set 3 Records in AAU Swim Test

BARTLESVILLE, Okla. (AP)—Roy Saari wears three swimming crowns—and holds three American records—but he still has to win a high school championship.

The 17-year-old El Segundo, Calif., high school senior was voted the outstanding swimmer of the 1962 AAU Indoor Swimming and Diving meet here after he set three freestyle records in three days. The meet ended Saturday.

He has his eye on the 1964 Olympics and rates as America's best prospect for that international competition, but his immediate goal is to win a high school 200-yard race.

Saari explained that he has competed in the 400-yard and 200-yard freestyle in the state high school meet since he was a sophomore, but had never won the 200-yard.

"I'll have to break that," he says.

Emerson, Laver Gains Masters Tennis Finals

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Top-seeded Roy Emerson of Australia won his way into the finals of the Masters tennis tournament Sunday with a 6-3, 6-1 victory over Whitney Reed of Alameda, Calif., seeded fourth.

Rod Laver of Australia joined Emerson in the finals with a 6-2, 6-4 win over Manuel Santana of Spain. Santana was seeded No. 2 and Laver No. 3.

Maria Bueno of Brazil trimmed Edda Buding of Germany, 8-6, 7-5, to gain the women's finals against Darlene Hard of Long Beach, Calif., who advanced Friday by defeating Renee Schuurman of South Africa, 3-6, 6-3, 9-7.

The semifinals were played in a roller skating rink after rain interrupted the tournament.

3 Double Eagles

Three double eagles (three under par) were scored in PGA tournaments in 1961. Gene Colchonis got one at Phoenix, Paul McGuire shot one at Tucson and Dick Stranahan scored one at Portland, Ore.

Detroit Fails In Bid to Retain All-Events Title

DES MOINES (AP)—Former doubles champions Harry Zoeller and George Pacropis of Wilkes Barre, Pa., were the only bowlers to crack the top ten standings of the American Bowling Congress tournament Sunday.

Zoeller and Pacropis, who won the 1955 ABC two-man title, took ninth place in the regular doubles with a 1296 series. They won the title seven years ago with a 1365 series.

Brentwood Bowl of South San Francisco made a weak opening bid in its attempt to defend its Classic Division team title.

The Region Five team, composed of students from universities and colleges in Ohio, won the team event in the 8th annual Intercollegiate Championships being contested on ABC lanes. The winners rolled a 2847 series. Captain Russ Natherson of Ohio State led the club with 631.

Governor Orders Probe Into Hunsaker Fight

YOKOHAMA, Japan (AP)—West Virginia Gov. W. W. Barron said today he will order an investigation into the critical injury of heavyweight Tunney Hunsaker in a Beckley, W.Va. ring last Friday.

"The boxing commission ought to examine the boxers more carefully to insure they are in good physical condition before going into the ring," he said. "I will direct the commission to report to me on how carefully the boxers in West Virginia are examined."

'Not Out of Woods Yet'

Boxer Remains Critical After New Operation

BLUEFIELD, W.Va. (AP) — squeezed the doctor's hand," she said. "The doctor told him to stick out his tongue. He did."

"I said, 'Kiss me' and he did. I said, 'Kiss me again.' He did again. Then I was ok."

"We're not out of the woods yet by a long shot," said Dr. E. L. Gage, who performed both operations. "I still feel like a tight-rope walker."

Should See Trend
He said that by Tuesday, there should be some trend in the boxer's condition. He added that the recent swelling of Hunsaker's brain was part of the original injury, it should begin to subside by Monday.

"If he hadn't shown some bounce" after the operation, Dr. Gage said, Hunsaker's chances

Monday, April 9, 1962 Appleton Post-Crescent B7

"wouldn't have been that good (50-50)."

Dr. Gage said he performed a subtemporal decompression. This involved, he explained, relieving that part of the brain which seems most swollen.

Mrs. Hunsaker said her husband greeted her with "Hi, hon," when he came out of surgery. She said he was conscious with one eye open and the other swollen shut from Friday night's fight.

Dr. Gage said he decided on the second operation when Hunsaker's general condition worsened this afternoon.

"We don't know yet what his temperature control is going to do," he said. "This afternoon it started climbing and kept going. His blood pressure rose higher than we like to have it and his coma deepened. He could use his right arm less."

Parade, Speeches Feature Houston's 'Baseball Week'

HOUSTON (AP)—Major League baseball has arrived and the city whooped it up today with a parade, speeches and a proclamation of "Colt Baseball Week."

Houston's Colt .45s open their National League season against the Chicago Cubs Tuesday.

The Colts helped build excitement and surprised everyone with a 17-11 spring exhibition record and the mythical Cactus League crown.

Bobby Shantz, the little lefty who had a 6-3 record for Pittsburgh last year, will start for Houston. The opposing pitcher will be Don Cardwell.

Houston players try out their $1.5 million temporary stadium for the first time today.

A crowd estimated by airport officials at close to 2,000 met the Colts Sunday when they arrived in Houston after spring training.

Goodwill Industries to Open Budget Store

Located in Town of Menasha Will Employ, Train Area Handicapped

MENASHA — The ceremonial ribbon-cutting to mark the official opening of the Fox Valley Goodwill Store will be at 10 a.m. Friday at the new facility on Highway 47 in the Town of Menasha between Appleton and Menasha.

Municipality officials to take part in the ceremonies are Amos D. Page, Town of Menasha chairman, and the three area mayors — Clarence Mitchell of Appleton, John Klein of Menasha and Carl Loehning, of Neenah, who takes office the following week.

Employ 6 Handicapped
The opening of this budget store is a significant occasion for both Goodwill Industries and for the communities of the area, officials say. It means that Goodwill's services of rehabilitation, including employment and training, will be immediately available to the handicapped residents of the Fox Valley. At the outset,

Ask Rezoning For Land as County Park

OSHKOSH — Rezoning of the John S. Grundman property on Lake Winnebago in the Town of Winland from residential "A" to recreational district to permit its use as a county park will come before the Winnebago County Zoning Committee and Board of Adjustments at its hearing Wednesday evening at the courthouse.

The hearings on 11 rezoning requests will begin at 7 p.m. The County Board has authorized purchase of the property south of Neenah for a public access to the lake and the Wisconsin Conservation Department has approved the project and will be paying half of the acquisition and development cost.

County officials said they understood that opposition to the rezoning might be expressed at the hearing.

Explanatory Booklet Statement Tries to Clarify Neenah Reassessment Aims

NEENAH — A statement aimed at clarifying objectives of the current reassessment of the city has been issued by Carlton Williams, city assessor.

"It has been reported that some of our citizens do not as yet fully understand the reassessment that is currently in progress," Williams said.

"There appears to be some confusion as to the reasons requiring the reassessment and the objectives sought to be attained. This is surprising in view of the explanations previously publicized and the explanatory booklet that was circulated to every property owner."

"The sole purpose of the reassessment is to correct inequalities that have developed over the years and to assure a more equitable apportionment of the tax burden among our property owners. Property owners who have been paying too large a share of the tax burden will have their taxes reduced. Those who have not been paying their fair share will have their taxes increased."

Van Pelt Will Try Re-Election

Delegates From Area Counties to Attend 6th District Caucus

FOND DU LAC — Rep. William K. Van Pelt, Republican, of Fond du Lac, said today that he will make a formal announcement at the Sixth District Republican caucus at the Retlaw Hotel in Fond du Lac Tuesday evening that he will be a candidate for re-election to Congress in the fall election.

The caucus will be attended by delegates representing Republican county committees from Calumet, Fond du Lac, Ozaukee, Sheboygan, Washington and Winnebago Counties. The meeting is scheduled for 8:30 p.m. and will be conducted by State Sen. Harold F. Huijbregtse, Sheboygan Falls, Sixth District chairman.

Rep. Van Pelt will be seeking his seventh term in Congress. He was elected in 1950 to succeed the late Rep. Frank B. Keefe of Oshkosh.

Bell Heads Drive For U. of Chicago

NEENAH — Mayor Chester S. Bell, 251 E. Wisconsin Ave., has been named to head the alumni fund drive of the University of Chicago in Neenah.

The appointment was announced in Chicago, the C. E. McKittick, national chairman of the 1962 University of Chicago Alumni Foundation.

Co-Chairmen of the General membership campaign for Community Concerts, Inc., are Mrs. D. C. Shepard Jr., left, and Mrs. Frederick H. Smith, both of Neenah. A series of four concerts is planned for the 1962-63 season. The membership drive will open with a kickoff dinner at Menasha Hotel April 23 and continue through April 28. Only members may attend concerts.

Issue Building Permit for Animal Shelter

NEENAH — A building permit for a $10,000 animal shelter building has been issued for Animal Welfare League, Inc., but construction plans hinge upon the success of public donations and response to special sales sponsored by the group, club officers said today.

The permit was issued Friday by Carl Mailahn, county zoning officer. The building, when constructed, will be along County Trunk G in the Town of Neenah, just east of U.S. 41. The Animal Welfare League has purchased two acres at that location.

22 Wonderful Days in 8 Great Countries

Holiday In Europe!

JULY 7 to JULY 28

Copenhagen, Paris, Rome, Pisa, Venice, London, Glasgow . . . these are just some of the "cities of your dreams" which will become your fondest realities as one of 30 persons who will be on the special tour to Europe in July. You will see historic sites in eight countries, stay at comfortable hotels, savor a variety of delectable foods, make lasting friendships. And, you will not be bothered with tiresome details or worried about monetary exchanges. The low price of $1098 includes transportation from Appleton back to Appleton, all hotels, two meals per day, guide fees and most tips plus other "extras" for your special convenience and enjoyment. Transportation across the Atlantic will be by fast jet planes of Scandinavian Airlines. All but a few hours will be spent in Continental Europe and the British Isles. Clip the handy coupon below and get all the details of the trip you've always dreamed about.

Zablocki Supports United Nations Ideal, But Not Sole U. S. Support

BY RICHARD P. POWERS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Clement Zablocki, D-Wis., says buy $100 million of the proposed activities of the United Nations will be severely curtailed if this country fails to help the organization surmount its financial difficulties.

He said apparent best course would be for the United States to buy $100 million of the proposed $200 million U. N. bond issue. "Continuation of the United Nations is in the interest of the United States and we must find a solution," the Milwaukee congressman said.

The financial crisis is the result of failure by the Soviet bloc countries as well as France and some other members to pay assessments arising from U. N. activities in the Gaza strip and in the Congo.

"Basically," Zablocki said, "I am not opposed to the loan. But I would want a demonstration on the part of these other nations that they intend to participate."

Zablocki said he would like to see an adjudication of a case before the World Court on the voting rights of those U. N. members which have not paid their assessments.

Delinquent Countries
"We should put the feet to the coals of those countries which are delinquent in payment of their dues," he said.

He said there is a close division in Congress over the question of U. S. purchase of the U. N. bonds. The question of authorizing the purchase is expected to come up in the Senate soon.

Zablocki said the House Foreign Affairs Committee, of which he is a member, will consider the legislation as soon as it finishes work on the Foreign Aid bill.

Watchdog Commission
Sen. Alexander Wiley, R-Wis., is urging early hearings by the Government Operations Committee of his bill to create a permanent Hoover-type watchdog commission on federal expenditures.

"The nation, experiencing skyrocketing expenditures, could benefit, I believe, by the creation of a permanent Hoover-type commission to keep a watchful eye on federal spending," Wiley said.

Over the years, he said, there has been an accumulation of evidence to demonstrate the need for greater protection for the taxpayer's money.

He said that previous commissions, re-evaluating federal operations, have made recommendations that saved billions of dollars.

"Recently," he said, "there has been new evidence of the need for a more watchful protection of the taxpayer's pocketbook, such as:

- 1. Excessive multi-billion dollar stockpiles of defense materials—now under investigation.
- 2. Reports that foreign nations, recipients of U. S. aid, 'salt away' instead of utilizing such funds.

"And other evidence from time to time of administrative deficiencies."

No Wisconsin communities were included in a list of 40 major areas of continuous substantial unemployment issued by the Labor Department.

However, Marinette-Menominee, was included in a list of 66 smaller areas compiled by the department.

To Your Good Health

Too Much Sedation Can Hurt Judgment

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M. D. better chance intellectually? —

Dear Dr. Molner: You have mentioned that alcohol and tranquilizers do not mix. Why?

Can one get a standpoint of somewhat better physical health and somewhat easier emotional adjustment, I can't say that I think it results in a better baby "intellectually." It is NOT true that human milk contains brain cells.

Dear Dr. Molner: When I travel a long distance in an automobile, I get a dull ache in my left side. It also happens when I stand in one position for several hours, usually when ironing. Can I do anything to prevent it? H. P.

This suggests back strain, and isn't at all uncommon. Adjusting the car seat forward (to lessen stretch on the legs) or using a pillow or support at your back may help. Break the ironing into two periods. Rest may not be needed, but switch to some other activity which takes the steady strain off the affected muscle or muscles.

Dear Dr. Molner: Is it wise to store food, such as sauce, or stews, overnight in an aluminum pan regardless of its age? — R. V. T.

There's no danger in storing food in aluminum containers or foil overnight or longer. The age is of no significance — it's still aluminum, and safe.

But food should be refrigerated no matter whether it is in containers of aluminum, tin, china, stainless steel, glass, or anything else. Refrigerating suppresses the action of bacteria. Engrave on your memory this rule: Keep it hot, keep it cold, or don't keep it.

Dear Dr. Molner: Is it true that human milk contains brain cells? Would a breast-fed child stand a

Useful Tension
Living requires a certain amount of caring, and a useful amount of tension. Being too "relaxed" means lassitude, poor judgment, irresponsibility, lack of caring about things.

In addition, tranquilizers have a variety of physical side effects, which may or may not be aggravated by alcohol.

Too much sedation-and-tranquilizing makes you into something more like a clam than a person.

Your inquiry about a "craving for beer," is begging the question. It isn't the beer, it's the alcohol. A craving for alcohol is another way of saying "alcoholism."

Japanese Protest Russian Testing

NEW YORK (AP)—A young man and a young woman, both residents of Hiroshima, Japan, visit Soviet United Nations officials here today to deliver a petition against Russian nuclear testing.

The pair are Miss Miyoko Matsubara, 29, who is employed in a Hiroshima home for the blind, and Hiromasa Hanabusa, 18, a high school student.

They plan to visit a number of cities in this country and to leave Boston April 21 for Geneva to carry their protest before the disarmament conference there.

'Tropic of Cancer' No Medical Subject

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Radio station WMAK telephoned Vanderbilt University's English department for comment on the suitability of the controversial novel, "Tropic of Cancer."

"I haven't read the book," a man's voice replied. "Why don't you call the medical department since the book deals with cancer."

all my life that removal of moles can cause cancer. That is why I haven't had one just under my arm taken off. It is continually rubbed by my bra, although it never really gets sore and hasn't seemed to grow much in the last few years. — B. A.

You've "heard all your life" the exact opposite of the truth. The false notion may have come from moles which became cancerous — and were removed after it was too late.

Generally, however, most moles are harmless, but if continually irritated they can become cancerous. So in such cases have them removed before the real trouble starts. You worry me when you add that yours "hasn't seemed to grow much," because any change in size or shape deserves immediate examination.
